Mokena Plan Body Says "No" to Housing Development

The land use map prepared by ETC of Evanson, a professional planning firm, covering Mokena and the territory within a mile and a half radius has been approved by the Mokena Plan Commission and sent on to the village board with a recommendation for its official adoption.

Similar action has been taken with a subdivision ordinance prepared by the planners and a zoning ordinance, also drawn up by the planners, has already been adopted by the Mokena board.

Mokena and Frankfort have joined in a planning program for the area. Both communities expect to adopt the same ordinances dealing with zoning and the control and regulation of subdivisions.

In sending the land use map on to the village board the plan commission recommended that it be adopted in its "present form." This phrase is also an answer to a group that proposed to develop a large home development east of Mokena, beginning at the village limits and continuing to U. S. 45, all south of the Rock Island tracks. It would contain 2,035 homes, 10 acres of apartments, and a shopping center, the developers say. The area that they would use for residential purposes is now recommended by the professional planners for industrial purposes and is so marked on the map.

The Plan Commission has pointed out on several occasions that if the community is to progress satisfactorily, it must preserve a proper balance of industrial, commercial and residential areas and that some assurance given the occupiers of each that one will not trespass upon the others.

Industry is wanted, Mokena leaders agree, not only to provide employment and so aid the growth of the area but also help meet the tax load. Industry, it was pointed out, demands a minimum of services from a community; it pays a substantial part of the school tax load yet does not add to it.

At the regular meeting of the Mokena Plan Commission on Wednesday night of last week a group of developers appeared to urge approval of a plat for the residential area referred to above.

Albert H. Krusemark, of Frankfort, attorney for the group, served as spokesman.

The four principals were introduced as Edward Feeley, of Palos Park, a home builder, Robert Black, of Orland Park, a paving contractor, Albert Gemeinhardt, of Flossmoor, a lumber dealer and Nicholas DiPalo, a sewer and water contractor. Herman Gee, of Orland township, is one of the realtors that has been getting options on property in the proposed development.

Mr. Krusemark said plans call for the use of 423 acres for home sites and that eventually the builders expected to complete 2,035 homes, besides

He recently participated in auditions at Milliken in woodwinds and it was because of his performance there that he was awarded the grant.

Ronald will be graduated from Lincoln-Way high school next week and will enter Milliken in the fall.

He has been active in music at school and has served as student director of the band and chorus.

Cowing Fixes June 27 As Date for Mokena District Referendum

June 27 has been set by Will County Judge John C. Cowing as the date for a referendum on the establishment of a park district embracing Mokena and the election of a five member board to operate it in the event the proposal is approved.

An order to this effect was entered by the court Tuesday after petitions for the formation of a park district had been submitted by Attorney Hoolehan.

The proposed district has the support of the Mokena Civic Association, which is ready to transfer title to the Mokena Community park if a park district is formed and all the other groups and organizations in the area, including the group elected by the Civic Association known as the park commission.

This commission has given freely of its time to maintain and equip the park but it is an uphill battle. Funds to meet the purpose have been raised at homecomings and in other ways but the income is uncertain at best and hence it is difficult to plan any sustained recreation program.

With this land to start with as a gift, a park district could acquire more space for park purposes as the need arises.

Charles Swanberg, who has been active on the park commission for many years, and one of the leaders in the move for a park district has been through the area in circulating petitions and reports that the project has support in all sections of the area.

Swanberg will be a candidate for the park board and it is reported that Mrs. Hugo Niethammer, who has also served on the park commission for many years, may also run.

Nominating petitions may be obtained at the office of County Clerk Joseph Hartley in the courthouse at Joliet. Petitions must carry at least 25 signatures of citizens who reside in the proposed district and must be filed—in this section—with the county clerk not less than 15 days prior to the date of the election.

In this case nominating petitions should be filed not later than June 12. If the district is created the five persons elected to serve as park commissioners will decide their length of terms by lot. Two would serve six years two four years, and one two years.

The proposed district extends about two miles in all directions from Mokena.

If a park district is formed the board would have authority to levy a tax to maintain (Continued on page 2)

Will Close Friday For Memorial Day

In observance of Memorial Day, the offices of the Semmler Press, Inc., at Mokena and Tinley Park will be closed all day tomorrow. Business will be resumed on Monday.

Mokena Grade School Board to Open Bids on Addition June 12

The Mokena grade school board is asking for bids on the new addition to Willow Crest school. Bids must be in, the board has decreed, by 8 p.m. June 12. At that time they will be opened and made public.

The board will let the work on one contract. All the different phases of the project are to be included in the general contract, according to the notice given out to contractors.

All bids must be accompanied by a certified check or a bid bond equivalent to 5% of the proposed price.

Plans and specifications are available at the office of the architects, Wilkins, Healy and Moore at 4 Clinton st., Joliet.

The plans call for a six-room addition. Until seven years ago Mokena's grade school needs were satisfied with a four-room building. That was when it began to get crowded. Two rooms were added in 1953. In 1957 it was decided to build a second school and so Willow Crest was erected and put into use last year.

Now six more rooms must be added to Willow Crest and all this has been made necessary by a gradual and moderate community growth, board president Robert Geuther points out.

He stated that the cost of construction in Mokena will average about $600 per pupil per room.

Nationally, according to statistics, classroom costs—including necessary attendant facilities—are now averaging $400,000 per room.

Orland Pupils To Visit Galena And Dubuque

The eighth grade class at Orland Park public school will travel in a different direction on their annual end-of-school trip. They leave today on a tour that will take them to Galena and Dubuque.

What will be a special treat will be the mode of travel. They will make the trip by train on a domed coach and a two-hour cruise on the Mississippi also is included on the trek.

They will make a motor tour of Dubuque, including Eagle Point park and Sinsinawa Mound, one of the highest points in Illinois. They will have lunch and dinner at Dubuque and during the afternoon will visit various interesting and historic spots in Galena.

Supt. Norbert Jerling and Raymond Livingston, teacher and athletic instructor, will accompany the students.

Funds for the trip were raised by the Achievement club thru basketball tournaments.

Frankfort Land Use

Village Board Seeks to Meet Growth Problems

When the Frankfort village board meets Monday it is expected to adopt a subdivision control ordinance and also amendments to the zoning code as recommended by the firm of planning engineers hired jointly by that municipality and Mokena to help guide the growth in this region.

These two measures were discussed Monday night of this week at a joint session of the village, zoning and planning boards held in the Frankfort village hall. Burton Breidert, chairman of the planning commission, also discussed the proposed land use map prepared by the engineers and recommended its adoption as soon as possible.

There are some changes on template in the map and whether these will be ironed out in time for action by the village board next week is problematical. A representative of the planning firm was to have met with the Frankfort boards yesterday and it was Breidert's hope that agreements could be reached.

Under the proposed plat of the development planned by the McIntosh company north of U. S. 30 and west of U. S. 45, a shopping center is marked down at the west end of the tract along U. S. 30, which would be about a mile west of U. S. 45. Trustee Amos D. (Ted) Massey thought the shopping area should be at the east end. He pointed out that the course, the village or city zoning board can limit property use.

The county board has final jurisdiction over land use in unincorporated areas, Krusemark pointed out, and from statements accredited to the Will county board of supervisors it would appear that, that body is endeavoring to prevent planning commissions from having any authority. The supervisors remind planning commissions that they have only an advisory capacity.

Breidert pointed out, however, that according to the planners, while laws may be somewhat vague over the powers of municipalities and plan commissions relative to the use of land outside their limits the courts have for the most part sustained the actions of such municipal bodies.

Breidert also pointed out that he believed most subdivisions would be more likely to avoid direct conflict with a municipality because if every law concerning public welfare, health and safety is strictly enforced, life could be miserable indeed for a developer.

In discussing the proposed subdivision control ordinance, no decision was reached on the sidewalk question or on curbs and gutters. Streets, however, must be paved. Lots will be required to have a minimum frontage of 75 feet and sufficient depth to give it at least 10,000 square feet. McIntosh is giving the village an acre and a half of ground for a sewage treatment plant site and the Frankfort grade school district a 10-acre building site at the northeast corner of the development.

Under the subdivision control ordinance a developer would be required to donate at least 5% of the land for recreation purposes.

Frankfort itself, it was brought out, has some lots that are in reality blocks and if they are to be broken up later they must be subdivided and plats approved and filed. There is a state law now in force which provides that a person cannot sell a piece of land less than five acres without a recorded plat, Krusemark said.

Proposed amendments to the village zoning ordinance include the setting up of three new categories, two types of commercial property and one area for research manufacturing.

No one will be permitted to reside in a business or commercial building or in a commercial area except the owner or a watchman or a supervisory employee of the owner. That is to prevent the possibility of a worn out business section becoming a slum.

Building heights in industrial areas will be limited to 50 feet. Industry will be limited to eliminate plants that give off large volumes of smoke, objectionable odors, dust and noise.

CONDUCTS ART WORK SHOP—Miss Viola Eckhoff, field representative in art instruction for Binney & Smith, an artists supply firm, had a workshop at New Lenox. It was held in Haven school and was for teachers in the underlying districts of Lincoln-Way high school district.

Kenneth Kinney, art director at Lincoln-Way, who arranged for the workshop, is looking over some of the creations of the class with Miss Eckhoff.

Lincoln-Way Bids

$489,573 Total Sum for Addition

The Lincoln-Way High school is scheduled to meet tonight to award contracts for the new addition to the schools. Bids were opened last Thursday night and found to be within the architects' estimate.

Bids were taken on the general, plumbing, heating, ventilating and electrical contracts. The lowest bids in each category brings the aggregate sum of $489,573.

This does not include the architects and legal fees and the premium on the performance bond which the board has issued for the protection of the district. These charges, plus money needed for furnishings and equipment for the new addition, will bring the total above the $500,000 bond issue approved by the voters but well under the architects' estimate which exceeded $606,000.

In awarding contracts tonight the board will be faced with the task of either eliminating some of the alternate plans or cutting them down.

In addition to the classroom section of the addition alternate plans included enlargement of the boys and girls locker rooms, two additional classrooms and a new shop building. These plans called for completion of the improvements. It is possible there would be sufficient funds to provide the shells for the proposed enlarged gymnasium facilities and the shop building and finish them with money from the building fund in the next year or two and the board is expected to look into possibilities.

There were five contractors that bid on the general contract. R. F. Johnson & Co., Chicago, was apparently the low bidder with a figure of $333,317. J. A. Kemmler, Chicago, was next with $359,300; R. G. Regan, Joliet, was third with $391,960 and Mayfair Construction Co. bid $397,790. Top bid was submitted by Sam Molaschi, Joliet, $600,253.

Six contractors bid on the plumbing and eight on the heating. Poehner & Dillman, of Joliet was low on both. It's bid on the plumbing was $52,158 and on the heating

A. J. Lowe & Sons, of Lyons was second lowest on the plumbing, $52,242 and Charles E. Crone Co., Chicago, was second on heating with a figure of $47,055.

Robert Irsay, of Skokie, was low, on the ventilation contract with a bid of $22,324. Second was Cicero Sheet Metal Inc., with $26,584. There were six other bidders.

Four bid on the electrical work and Norris Elect. Co., Joliet, was low with a figure of $37,029. Meyerhoff Elect. Co., also of Joliet, was second with a bid of $39,364.

The board was pleased with the response to its requests for bids.

COWING FIXES JUNE 17

(Continued from page 1) and operate parks and recreation. It was said that any tax levied in the proposed district would be nominal.

In setting the election date Judge Cowing ordered that one polling place be located at the Cooper and Hostert garage 124 Front st., Mokena, and that the poll remain open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Mr. Swanberg said that Harold Cooper has donated the use of his business premises for a polling place and it was believed clerks and judges would volunteer their services. The county does not pay the expenses of such elections.

MOKENA PLAN—

(Continued from page 1) apartments. He went on to say that the homes to be built on the sites would not be pre-fabs and would range in price from $13,500 to $18,500. Some would be frame, some brick and some brick and frame, with attached garages or car ports and that some would have basements. The developers, Krusemark said, expected to build about 400 homes a year.

Lot sizes would be 70x120 ft. The minimum size of a house, he added, would be 1,050 square feet.

Krusemark said that the developers were prepared to help the schools (the Mokena grade and Lincoln-Way high) meet the cost of new buildings and additions that the subdivision would necessitate by giving a certain sum of money for this purpose whenever a house was started.

"If this area is annexed to Mokena as the developers would prefer," Krusemark said "it would be possible to hold up building permits if the money was not forthcoming."

He made this assertion in response to a comment by Maurice P. Angland, plan group chairman, that such an agreement was not enforceable under the law. Even with this building permit gimmick in operation, Angland added, the village could be forced to grant permits whether any money was paid for the school or not. It has been done in Illinois, he added.

Robert Geuther, president of the Mokena grade school board said that a recent survey in the district shows that approximately 360 pupils will be enrolled next fall.

"Mokena is an old town," he said, "and has many older people, widows and retired couples that are not contributing to the school population, yet we still average almost eight-tenths of a pupil per home. The development you are talking about here strikes me as similar to Marycrest at Joliet and that is swarming with children. It is an area that will attract young couples and I believe that it would average much higher than one child a home."

"In 1952 we had a four room school in Mokena and it was ample to meet our needs. We now have 12 rooms and by next year will have 16 and this increase has been on a gradual, modest growth. You can imagine what a situation we would face with this subdivision such as this plumped down in our laps."

One of the developers urged the plan group to hasten its decision. Time was money, he said, and the subdividers and builders were entitled to a speedy answer. They left then but they got their answer shortly after departure.

As far as the plan commission is concerned it favors the location of industry in this particular area rather than homes. Krusemark had suggested that the area north of the tracks be used for industrial purposes and contends it provides ample space. Transportation is vital to industry, hence the zoning of land along the Rock Island for industrial use.

Angland pointed out that one of the requisites of industry in selecting plant locations was the assurance that it would not have to battle with owners of residential property. Location of plants on the north side of the tracks, Angland fears, would bring out protests from residential property owners on the south side.

The commission feels that the disadvantages of having such a housing development in Mokena would more than outweigh any advantages. The commission cannot decide such a question, however, it can only recommend. The decision will be made by the village board.

Catholic Mass to Be Celebrated In Slovanic

On Friday, June 5, St. Jude's Parish in New Lenox will be guest to St. Mary Assumption of Joliet. Father Gregory Petruska, O.S.B. and some of his parishioners will come to New Lenox to celebrate the Catholic Mass in the ancient Slovanic language, as it is celebrated in his own parish in Joliet.

The purpose of this is to show the unity in the church despite the many different rites and languages used in the one and the same sacrifice of the mass in the Roman church. The coming ecumenical council announced by Pope John XXIII, is reported to have as one of its objectives, the reunion of other Eastern Rite Catholics who have been separated from the Roman church for centuries. The liturgy will also give an example of active participation in the mass on the part of the people who pray and sing along with the priest.

The Catholic mass as celebrated in St. Mary Assumption church on Hacker ave. in Joliet each day is officially called the Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom, of the Byzantine Slovanic rite. The parishioners are called Roman Catholics of the Byzantine Rite and are united with the Pope of Rome.

All the people of the area are invited to witness this Liturgy at St. Jude's church June 5 at 8 p.m. Fr. Gregory Petruska, O.S.B., pastor of St. Mary's Joliet, will offer the liturgy or mass.

"What Every Wife Should Know About Family Finances" was the subject of an interesting lesson given by Mrs. Edw. "Wills and Widdows" was the main topic of the lesson.

62 Members and Guests Attend Woman's Club Spring Luncheon

The annual spring luncheon of the Orland Park Woman's club was held Wednesday, May 20 at the White Fence Farm with 62 members and guests attending.

Mrs. Arthur Newhouse of Blue Island, newly elected president of Third District, IFWC, Mrs. Robert Johnson and Mrs. James Whiteford, newly elected president and 1st vice president respectively of the Orland Park Jr. Woman's club were honored guests of the club, each being presented with a corsage. She thanked them all for their cooperation and also gave a resume of activities of the club during her term of office and turned the gavel over to Mrs. Chester Williams, newly elected and installed president.

Mrs. Newhouse thanked the club for luncheon invitation and remarked on the wonderful progress of the club, being a small club, had made. It was also announced that Mrs. Wesley Lindquist, past president of Orland club and also Third District, was appointed parliamentarian for Third District.

Mrs. Williams presented Miss Merrill Schuessler, lyric soprano, accompanied by Miss Mitzi Mahie, who sang, "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," "Waiting for My Dearie," "The Individual," "Til There Was You," "I Enjoy Being a Girl," "Christopher Robin Is Saying His Prayers," and for an encore "I Could've Danced All Night."

In several contests Miss Schuessler has received awards from Morgan Park Gleemen; Illinois Federation of Music Clubs National Voice; Finalist in Metropolitan Opera Auditions; North Side Symphony, and Crescendo Musical club awards.

The club colors are pale green and yellow and the club flower, the daisy. Yellow tulips and bridal wraith were substituted in bouquets which centered the tables. Candy cups with paper lace doilies surrounded by green and yellow petals were at each place setting.

The luncheon climaxed the activities of the club until in the fall.

The Motor club advises that efficient windshield wipers are essential to traffic safety, especially during rainy periods. Make sure your wipers are in good working order and that they are equipped with proper blades. Your defroster also should be checked to make certain it is working properly to keep the windshield's interior from fogging.

Warn Residents Hydrants Will Be Flushed Next Week

The Tinley Park water department wishes to forewarn residents that they will be flushing hydrants on the section of the village south of the tracks on June 3, 4 and 5, and north of the tracks the following week, on June 10, 11 and 12.

Because this process discolors the water, the department is making it known so that housewives will be prepared to wash clothes the early part of the week.

Name Director For Special Education Plan

Stanley B. Singer of Champaign has accepted the position of director for the South-west Cook County Association for special education. He will assume his duties on or about July 1, 1959 with temporary offices located in Tinley Park schools.

Correspondence relative to special education problems and interests can be directed to Mr. Singer at 17248 67th ave., Tinley Park. Such correspondence will be forwarded to him for his attention at a later date.

Singer's first duty after setting up his offices will be to survey the needs for special education in the school districts 117, 118, 125, 126, 127, 128, 135, 140, 142, 143, 144, 146 and 160 who have underwritten the costs of the project and whose children will be served by the Association's program of education for exceptional children.

There appears to be some hope that a few classes for handicapped children will be set up in the area by early fall of 1959. Since availability of psychological services will necessarily limit early development of classes for the educable mentally handicapped children, it is likely that other areas such as speech correction and deaf oral instruction may develop sooner than the other areas.

There will be need for a full time person to do secretarial work in the Association's office. The director has stated that in addition to the usual secretarial skills, he will be looking for a person who already has a sincere interest in the education of exceptional children. Applications for the position can be mailed directly to Stanley B. Singer, in care of the Tinley Park public schools.

He little thought when leaving home, he would return no more; That he in death so soon would sleep.

We did not see him die. We only know he passed away.

All Set for Geneva Jaunt

Carl Sandburg high school students who attend the annual Prom to be held tomorrow night in the school gymnasium will board buses after the affair is over, and go to Des Plaines where they will take a train that will carry them to the George Williams YMCA camp near Lake Geneva, Wis.

This trek, known as the Geneva Jaunt, and will serve as a substitute for individual visits to restaurants or night clubs. Parents worry over late journeys on highways that will be doubly dangerous this year because of the Memorial Day weekend.

Arrived at the camp the couples will have breakfast. Afterwards they will have a choice of many activities, tennis, golf, volleyball, badminton, baseball, boating and swimming. An entire beef will be roasted, western style, as the main course of a noon midday feast. They will start the return trip home about mid afternoon on Saturday.

Thanks to various fund raising activities by the students, the cost of the jaunt has been reduced to about $10 a student and this will pay for the entire trip.

The program has the hearty endorsement of parents.

June 24 has been selected as the date for the annual University of Illinois Agronomy Day.

Reactivate Bid For Location of U. of I. Branch

The Regional Association of South Cook-Will County Municipalities, is strengthening its bid for the location of the proposed branch of the University of Illinois in Bremen township. The site was not included in the final selection by the trustees.

To further their desire to have the university located here, the Association passed a resolution at the meeting held at Calumet City on April 17, giving salient points in favor of locating the Metropolitan branch in a proposed 600 acre tract of land on the Indian Boundary Line Ridge, located near Oak Forest, Tinley Park and Hazel Crest.

The committee on higher education has also invited industrial leaders in the area to attend a meeting at the Harvey YMCA tonight, to further the efforts of persuading the officials that this site be further investigated.

Police Working To Cut Accidents

Police Chief James J. Smetana is working closely with state and county authorities in the statewide Traffic Condition Red alert which goes into effect at 6 p.m. today.

During the alert, which will continue thru midnight Sunday, virtually every police officer in the state is participating in an all-out law enforcement program aimed at reducing traffic accidents during the Memorial Day weekend.

No warning tickets are being issued during the Red alert, Smetana said.

"It's easier to say 'take it easy' than it is to practice it," the chief said. "But we must curb the desire to rush and hurry. Whether at the wheel or on foot take time to move safely to avoid endangering yourself or others."

Hold Memorial Day Services in Mokena Saturday

Rev. William Krutza, pastor of the Park View Baptist church, will be the speaker at the Memorial Day services to be conducted by the William Martin Post 275, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Mokena. Services will begin promptly at 10 a.m. Saturday, May 30 in the VFW home and everywhere is welcome.

Included in the program will be the choir from the Mokena public school and children from St. Mary's school who will provide musical selections. Rev. Cecil Koop of St. Mary's will deliver the invocation. Immediately following the services the post will continue its observance of Memorial Day with its customary parade to the three cemeteries where the war dead will be further honored by short services and the sounding of taps.

Among the groups expected to be represented in the parade are the Wm. Martin Post Drum and Bugle corps, Mokena public school band, Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts and a firing squad made up of soldiers stationed at the Nike Installation in Orland Park.

The Commander of the VFW post, C. A. Zugenbuehler, said that he and the members of his organization are gratified at the wonderful response again this year by the several organizations and individuals who make this community project possible.

Parents are requested by the Commander of the Post to advise the children to show some respect for the dead at the cemeteries by not walking on the graves. In recent years several graves were trampled by boys in their eagerness to obtain cartridges ejected from the rifles.

Sandburg High To Hold Honors Night June 1

Should academic success be recognized? If your answer to this question is positive, then your attendance at Carl Sandburg high school's Honors Night on June 1 will be encouraging, declared school authorities.

Sandburg students that make outstanding marks in the classroom usually go unnoticed, but Monday night at 8 p.m. their efforts will be recognized before fellow classmates, parents and friends.

The hour long program will include the initiation ceremony of the National Honor Society, naming of the top ten seniors in the Class of 1959, announcement of the charter members in the mathematics club, Mu Alpha Theta, and departmental awards.

Other highlights of the program will include the award

ORLAND BOARD—
Discussed was the question of whether or not the board had ever passed an ordinance limiting parking on 143rd st., between the east line of the Wabash railroad and west line right of way. According to the attorney, such an ordinance has been passed.

Other matters discussed and disposed of were the cleaning of ditches on West ave., west of Beacon st., and removal of dead trees at 144th and Irvine ave.

The health committee will investigate a complaint of a non-functioning septic tank which overflows on a neighbor's property.

Backwood Trails

By ART SCHUMANN

Last weekend my family and I traveled up to the Petenwell and Castle Rock flowages in Central Wisconsin. A few weeks ago we mentioned this area as one of the best fishing places in the north country, and it has certainly proven so again this spring.

We traveled route 59 out of Plainfield and took the new toll road west to Beloit, took 51 to 13 and straight to the extreme north end of Petenwell for northern pike. The distance is exactly 262 miles and can be driven in just 5½ hours. The trip could be made in shorter time perhaps, but we are not out to break high-way speed records.

Petenwell is noted for its outstanding northern fishing and is really living up to its name again this spring. Everyone who is doing any fishing at all pulls in northern anywhere from 6 lbs. up. Last Saturday morning Simon Rieker, who is without a doubt one of the best all-around guides on the flowage, and myself took a boat back in among the stumps of one of the backwaters on the east side of Petenwell. While there we tied into some of the largest tackle busters this writer has ever had the pleasure of fighting on the end of a line.

It was not uncommon for both Simon and myself to be playing a northern at the same time, each trying to get hold of the net at once. The silver minnow with a three inch pork rind chunk was used exclusively. The largest northern taken weighed in at 10 lbs. The largest tied into are probably still heading for deep water trying to shake the spoon from their mouth, and weigh three times as much as the largest we boated.

I found out the hard way that the lunkers in Petenwell are built for action. One cast into the cattails with my silver minnow brought out what the guide told me was the largest northern he had ever seen. It came out like a torpedo and hit the bait and kept on going. After slowing him down and trying to tire him out for 3 or 4 minutes, he turned and headed straight for the boat, dove underneath and headed for deep water without slowing down. That was the last I saw of plug and leader; he snapped it like store string. I thought the 3 lb. test line and 20 lb. leader would be sufficient.

Most guides and local fishermen up there use 45 lb. test lines with 70 lb. leaders. Some even use wire lines. Few fishermen will actually believe the fishing that can be had in that area unless they actually go there to fish. Many were taking northers of good size on both artificial bait and live minnows. The fish are hungry and going on an annual spring rampage up there.

Last Sunday morning a fisherman from Downers Grove who was staying at the same resort, landed three northern averaging 8 lbs. within fifteen minutes right in front of the cabins.

At night the fishermen turn to bullhead fishing on the bottom. Stringers of from 50 to 75 are common and I'll bet there was

Athletes at Mokena School Receive Awards

A special awards assembly was held at the Mokena grade school at which boys and girls received awards for their participation in athletics.

Basketball awards went to the following 8th grade boys: Akers, Alexander, Arnold, Badten, Brown, DeCamp, Heinecke, Marce, Niemann, Sayers, Selnik and Peterson, manager.

Seventh grade boys were: Beattie, Fee, Gerdel, Howell, Hull, Hunniford, Ihde and Roberson. Sixth graders: Tom Hamilton.

Tumbling awards went to Linda Wright and Ronnie Badten, 8th graders; and to Claire Gibson and Bill Beattie, 7th graders.

The intramural girls basketball team winners were: Terry Hearn, Susan Hitz, Carol Benson, Georger Janner, and Ellen Sievertson.

The winning intramural basketball team for the boys was Bob Boyson, Linn Lindstrom, Danny Jones, Toby Nichols, and Mike Bernard.

Cheerleaders for the year were Margie Barenz, Donna Halfacre, Cheryl Hearn, Wanda Jeffers, Linda Wright of the 8th grade; and Terry Hearn of the 7th grade.

A trophy for third place in basketball in the DesPlaines Valley conference was presented to Mrs. Elizabeth Capel by Ron Badten.

Most valuable player awards went to Ron Badten and Paul Brown.

not a difference of an inch in the length of any of them. All were averaging about 12 inches in length.

Down on Castle Rock flowage the walleyes are hitting just as violently as the northern in Petenwell. The east shore has been producing the heaviest stringers taken along the culverts. Fishing on the bottom, large chubs with a June bug spinner about eight inches in front have been producing well. In June the panfish will start hitting and catches that are staggering to the imagination will be taken.

To give some idea of the size of panfish in the Petenwell and Castle Rock flowages last year a crappie was taken that weighed 3 lbs. 12 oz.

If you can get away for a weekend soon, pile the family in the car and head for these flowages in central Wisconsin. If you want good fishing close to home, go once and I guarantee you will go again. You won't find plush resorts in the areas, as it's a relatively new setup, but you'll find clean comfortable accommodations for your family while you fish.

You don't have to know the so-called "spots" in these waters, just dunk your line in anywhere in the flowages and you are in business. No where else within twice the distance from Lockport is there such fishing available to you.

We have received a fine response recently from those who are interested in organizing a Lockport Boating club. If enough response is forthcoming, an organization meeting will be held. One of those interested in forming such a club has access to a fine piece of shoreline on the Illinois river. It is planned to build a boat ramp, dock space, picnic tables and fireplaces on the club site. This would solve the problem for Lockport residents who are having trouble finding a place to put their boat

"Offys", Fords To Tangle on Joliet Oval

Powerful Offenhauser cars will head the Memorial Day midget auto races at Joliet Memorial Stadium next Saturday night. The program will include the 1959 season's first 50 lap main event.

The Fords, which normally run at Joliet, and the Offenhauser powered cars will tangle in open competition on the stadium's quarter-mile clay oval. It will be the first time in eight years of racing at Joliet that the "Offys" have run.

Track officials have promised that leading drivers from five midwestern states will come to Joliet for the competition. Names of the entries won't be available until later this week, they said.

However, the "home" drivers don't intend to be outdone. Danny Kladis of Chicago, Bob Tattersall of Streator and Bob Hauck of Joliet, each of whom has a feature victory to his credit this season, will make their presence felt.

Among other top pilots in the lineup will be Don Chapman of Aurora, Paul Kerber of Elgin, George Sillery of Chicago, Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, Ill., and Jolietans Bernie Wilhelm and Roy Shields.

Included on Saturday's card, preceding the 50 lap feature, will be Don Chapman of Aurora, Paul Kerber of Elgin, George Sillery of Chicago, Willie Wildhaber of Lexington, Ill., and Jolietans Bernie Wilhelm and Roy Shields.

Included on Saturday's card, preceding the 50 lap feature, will be four heat races, a handicap and 15 lap semi-feature. Time trials start at 7:30 p.m. and the first race an hour later.

in the water. If you own a boat and would be interested in joining such a club, give us a ring. We would be glad to hear from you.

By now, just about everyone who fishes in our area has heard of the 20 lb. northern taken from one of the strip mine lakes two weeks ago. Those who are members will be glad to hear that the fish was taken from the South Wilmington recreation club near Essex. The northern was caught along with some nice four and five pound bass by Dick Kindelspire of Morris who is one of the outstanding fishermen in northern Illinois. The South Wilmington club also offers fine walleye and trout fishing as well. There are some northern in the waters of the club that could cause a fisherman to lose a breath or two if he tied into one.

Word has reached our desk of the fine progress made at the New Lenox Recreation club. Altho relatively a new club, it has much to offer the outdoorsman as well as the rest of the family. With all that has been accomplished in developing the beach, picnic areas and roads on the grounds, a member can really enjoy himself with a minimum of effort.

Those who are interested in fossils can really have a field day with a hammer down there on a Sunday afternoon.

For those who plan to hunt deer this fall in Illinois, we'll inform you of the season as soon as it is determined. It looks like a split season this year for the bow hunters. Tentatively it appears the season will be in October and again in mid-December. The shotgun season will be just about the same time as last year.

Increased damage from 2-4-D spray drift has been reported on sensitive crops like tomatoes, grapes and soybeans in recent years. If farmers are to avoid restrictions or lawsuits, they must use more care in applying these materials, warn University of Illinois agronomists and plant pathologists.

A Day in the Life of an Exchange Student

When Ella Juul Jensen returns to Denmark this summer she will carry with her many pleasant memories of her year's stay in America as an exchange student. Ella arrived in the late summer last year to enroll at Lincoln-Way high school as a senior. She could read and speak English of course, when she came but now she rattles it off quite fluently, including idioms. Reading papers, as she is doing in picture No. 1, is an excellent way to keep up on a strange language, she finds, as well as keep conversant with what is going on here and abroad. No. 2 shows Ella (second from the right) in her home away from home. She has been staying with the Lloyd Berlins at New Lenox. The Berlins, who are seated on the davenport, have two daughters also students at Lincoln-Way. Jane, extreme left, and Kathy, at the far right. No. 3 — Horseback riding and (No. 4) bike riding are pleasant forms of exercise, Ella finds. No. 5 — A sweater is always a welcome addition to any girl's wardrobe and Ella is looking over a few new numbers at the This and That shop in New Lenox presided over by Mrs. May Sergeant. No. 6 — Denmark is quite a dairy country so cows are not strange creatures to Ella but here she found that the American Black Cow is tops when it comes to refreshments and in the upper picture she is sipping such a concoction. Below is Ella at work, in a class room and No. 7 was taken as she left the school at the conclusion of a day. School is not all class work, however. There is some chit-chat in the halls in changing classes and Ella (No. 8) has no trouble understanding or being understood in such sessions. No. 9 — A weighty decision what record or records to get but how can she resist the title of that one just below her left hand — Ella Swings.

No. 10 — Ella has a talk with Supt. A. Hunter Chapman about her work during her stay at Lincoln-Way. Her work has been quite good, her teachers report. No. 11 — Ella stops at the Economy Market in which Lloyd Berlin is a partner, when she is down in the village and it is her turn to take mail or packages home. She is just one of the family, the Berlins say. Before she returns to Denmark, Ella will have an opportunity — with the other exchange students — to take a trip that will enable them to see something of the country. (Marvin Smith photos)

State Suspends Licenses of Two Drivers in Area

Two area residents have had their driver's licenses suspended for having caused or contributed to accidents resulting in injuries to other motorists.

Robert W. Fredin, of Frankfort, a contractor, rammed into a car on U. S. 30 several months ago, causing the injury of the occupants of the other car.

Fredin was driving too fast, according to the report of state police, and was arrested. He was later fined and when the report of the accident reached the office of Secretary of State Charles Carpenter his license was suspended.

The other resident whose license has been suspended is Nicholas Riddle, who lives near Marley. He too was arrested following an accident in which persons were injured.

Another whose license has been suspended but has been granted a permit to continue driving pending compliance with all state and local traffic laws is James W. Wilson, of 84th st. and U. S. 30, Lincoln Estates, according to records of Carpenter's office.

Have Strangers Show Credentials, Advises Gas Co.

You won't hurt the feelings of any gas company man if you ask to see his identification card!

"We realize people must be careful about admitting anybody without proper authorization," F. A. Murray, district superintendent for Northern Illinois Gas reported. "Our employees, including inspectors meter readers, and servicemen will be happy to show their identification card before entering a customer's home."

Murray urged customers to insist on seeing and examining the man's identification card before admitting him to eliminate the possibility of unauthorized people entering the premises.

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

For some time the news columns have quoted various government officials to the effect that inflation has been stopped and that actually there had been a slight drop in cost of living index. Analysis reveals there had been a rise in prices generally with the exception of food prices. Food costs had dropped enough to obscure price increases in the index. Last week the index on cost of living was slightly higher than its previous peak.

Explanation of this rise is that a number of items in the index had risen somewhat, but that food items had recovered a good portion of their drop and the effect was to bring the price index to its previous high.

News stories and well intentioned efforts to arouse the public against inflation, are often quite inaccurate. It is doubtful that these gentlemen mean stopping completely, the regular erosion of the monetary unit. Historically, erosion of the monetary units of all countries has been going on since creation of the first monetary unit many hundreds of years ago. This erosion has gone on at greater and lesser speeds depending on the country's government responsibility and honesty.

Western Europe and the USA, being commercial countries, have kept this erosion under control with the exception of the period following 1918. By "under control" is meant a small erosion that was not noticed generally and given little publicity. As our standards of living have advanced, there has been a "borrowing from the future" in the nature of spending beyond the current ability to pay with the then tax receipts. Wars are very expensive in themselves, but they also have a secondary effect on the country's social structure.

Men associated in military service, quickly appraise each other and relative abilities without regard to previous civilian status of the individuals. After each war, there is usually a strong trend toward raising the economic and social status of the people, closer to that of the more fortunate strata. This insistent demand brings on government spending in excess of tax income.

Prior to a few years ago, new discoveries in industry which reduce costs, were pretty much divided between lower item costs to the public, higher wages, an higher profits to the firm. Only about 25 per cent of the labor force is unionized but in recent years there has been a tendency toward wage demands greater than the new discoveries have increased the production per man hour. This results in immediate price increase with any wage increase.

To be a statesman, the seeker of public office, must first be elected. As of now, the voting public does not seem aroused over the fiscal problems, to the extent where political lives are endangered by lack of controls on spending or labor union controls.

Events as regards the national debt and investor appeal, may well force governmental action of some sort that will bring the situation home to the public.

The Treasury is having difficulty getting the public to invest in long term government bonds. This difficulty is likely to increase rather than decrease. It is obvious Congress is not going to voluntarily cease new spending on social objectives such as housing etc. To continue and ex-

The least politically painful is the course likely to be taken. This will probably mean legal requirements that financial institutions keep a certain portion of their funds in governments.

The Chicago Motor Club cautions drivers to remember that spring and summer showers can be just as dangerous to motorists as January ice storms. The only difference is that road film and water replace ice and snow as driving hazards. Stopping distances on wet and slippery pavements are always above average despite the temperature reading. A skid — whether it comes in spring or winter — could cause a major accident.

Countryside News and Views

Cook Co. Asst. Farm Adviser

The onion maggot flies are present in great numbers in onion fields now. These flies are the adult stage of the destructive little pest, which eats the underground portion of the onion. Once this little creature has started causing trouble underground, there is nothing you can do but make an effort to reduce the population of the adults. At this stage of the game, DDT is recommended for onion maggot fly control. Use two pounds of actual DDT per acre. Later in the season, the spray should be switched to 1-3 pound actual diazinon, or 1.3 pound actual parathion. When spraying, it is wise to treat a little beyond the edge of the field in fence rows, ditches, and field margins.

You may be able to save $20.00 to $40.00 a year in gas and oil bills by properly adjusting your tractor carburetor. Be sure the engine is at operating temperature before making an adjustment. The load mixture adjustment is most important and should be made with the engine under load.

Falls are the main cause of home and farm accidents, and 26 percent of these falls occur in the home. Falls injure people of all ages, but especially those in the younger and older groups. They account for about 40 percent of the accidents to children under five years. Children 5 to 13 years old suffer most falls while playing; persons from 14 to 24 years fall during recreational activities. Older members most often fall on porch steps, down stairs in haymows and on slippery ice. So whoever you are or wherever you may be—watch your step.

Tools are important on the farm today, but it takes a man to use them. The successful modern farmer is jack of all trades and master of all. He must be engineer enough to run $10,000 to $30,000 worth of machinery and equipment, and blacksmith enough to fix a breakdown on the spot. He must be economist enough to know when to buy feeder cattle and when to sell, but book keeper enough to spot weak points in his operation. He must know something about the veterinarian's skill as well as something about chemistry and agronomy.

The modern farmer is both a capitalist and a day laborer. He must have brains enough to make 40 decisions daily, brawn enough to toss around bags of fertilizer and self confident enough to walk into the bank and ask for a five figure loan without batting an eye.

To get the most in efficiency and safety out of your car, says the Motor club, remember to think before you drive, and while you drive. Your car, it you keep it in good mechanical condition, will do what you ask it to do. But it is up to the individual driver to make the proper decision at the proper time. You have to supply the horsepower to go with your car's horsepower.

St. Lawrence Seaway to Aid Illinois Farms

By L. H. SIMERL
Agricultural Economist

The opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway will help Illinois farmers in three ways: 1. It will increase the demand for their products. 2. It will make some supplies available at lower prices and 3 it will stimulate industrial development and business activity in the Midwest.

These developments will not be sudden or revolutionary. They will not eliminate the cost price squeeze. They will not solve all, or even most, of our farmers' income problems. But the seaway will provide real increases in income over what would have been possible without it. And these increases will be cumulative over many years.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has calculated that the costs of moving wheat from Duluth, Minn. to Rotterdam, Netherlands, will be 12 cents a bushel less by the seaway than by a former route. Similar savings may be made on costs of exporting corn and soy beans.

Exact figures on future costs cannot be given, since, ocean freight rates rise and fall with changes in demand for shipping space.

The benefit of the cost cutting will probably be split in three ways: 1. It will tend to lift prices to producers, 2. It will increase the volume of grain that can be sold for export and 3. Some of the savings will be passed on to foreign consumers in the form of lower prices.

Farmers in Illinois and adjoining areas will receive most of the benefits accruing to producers of corn and soy beans.

The benefits of lower shipping costs for wheat will be divided between producers in the United States and those in Canada. Both will use the seaway. The United States and Canada are the two largest exporters of wheat.

Early estimates were that 40 to 45 million bushels of grain from the United States and Canada would be exported through the seaway this year. Actual shipments may be much larger. By March 1, bookings had been made to ship 25 million bushels before July 1.

The seaway will be open for about eight months of the year. The route will be frozen over for about four months each winter.

The seaway will bring some supplies to midwest farmers at lower costs than would have been possible without it. Examples are barbed wire and other steel products from foreign mills and factories.

The seaway will provide a strong stimulus to industrial development in the Midwest. Chicago and other Great Lakes cities are now ocean ports. Cities like St. Louis, Moline and LaSalle on the Illinois river have cheap water transportation to the Great Lakes ports and thus to most of the world's great markets.

Industrial development in the Midwest will mean more nearby consumers for meat, milk, eggs and other farm products. It will also make more off farm employment opportunities for our rural people.

PTA News

Orland Park Unit

The Orland Park PTA will sponsor a roller skating party in the grade school gymnasium Thursday, May 28. There will be the usual two sessions of skating: the first session from 6:30 to 7:50 p.m. and the second session from 8:10 to 9:30 p.m. Chaperones will be the sixth grade (Miss Kuklin) room parents. This will be the final skating party until next fall.

Monday, June 1, the PTA executive board will entertain the grade school teachers at a luncheon to be held in the home of Mrs. Merrill Cooper.

When it's raining, says the Motor club, it's easier for a pedestrian to see an approaching car than it is for the driver of that car to see the pedestrian. That's why it is most important that during a rainstorm pedestrians make certain not to obscure their own vision or visibility with umbrellas.

Nation to Honor War Dead

Tribute to the dead of all the wars in which our nation has engaged will be paid on Memorial day. In Illinois and the other northern states Memorial Day is observed on May 30. In the south observation of the day is earlier as a rule because the flowers bloom earlier there.

It was in 1868 that the Grand Army of the Republic agreed to set aside May 30 "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

It was before this, however, that the decoration of soldiers' graves began. Women in the south spread flowers over the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers in 1863 while the war was still in progress.

For a time after the G.A.R. established Memorial Day the occasion was used to exalt the Union armies for their triumph over the Confederacy but as time passed so did this form of celebration.

For the past several decades Memorial Day has come to be a time of tribute to the American dead of all wars. Only one man survives who participated in the war between the states. He was in the Confederate army and he lives in Texas.

The ranks of the Spanish War veterans are wearing thin and a steady toll is being taken of those who took part in World War I.

Besides honoring the dead Memorial Day is also a time when we should remember that our liberties and freedom and our kind of government were not gifts. We had to fight for them. And to preserve them we might have to fight again.

John Foster Dulles

The death of John Foster Dulles is to be regretted.

The former Secretary of State had numerous critics, as might be expected of a person who spared no effort to accomplish what he believed to be for the best interests of the United States. But criticism never caused him to swerve from his course or dodge his duty.

To employ the vernacular, Mr. Dulles was a stand-up man. He was a man of strong convictions and was ready to fight for them. Perhaps his strongest conviction was that peace was possible if people really worked for it.

Just hoping for peace was not enough, he frequently pointed out. It cost as much time and effort and almost as much money to wage peace as to wage war, Mr. Dulles often said.

He was a man of courage and high principles. Too many men in public life succumb to the temptation to alter their courses to suit public clamor. No one could say that of Mr. Dulles. He wasn't this today and that tomorrow.

He was first and foremost for our nation and also gave of his talents to the other nations of the free world that all could be held together and present a common front against the imperialistic threats of Communist Russia.

Dulles was an unrelenting foe to Communism in all parts of the world. The free world owes a great debt to Mr. Dulles, as do we in this country.

When one stops to think of the physical pain that has been his lot for the past year or so his accomplishments are the more remarkable.

From the time he was in his late teens Mr. Dulles had one ambition, to become Secretary of State. He was a lawyer by profession but spent most of his time in study of foreign affairs and became an expert in the field of diplomacy.

When the war with Japan ended it was Mr. Dulles who drafted the peace treaty that was eventually signed, altho that event took place under another administration and under another Secretary of State.

Party politics meant little to him. He was for a free United States and for a free world and to that end he devoted all his energies.

He was a good man for a big job. The country will miss him.

ing machines, stenographers and secretaries, film, cables or radiograms, gifts, bus tickets, steamship tickets, plane tickets, train tickets.

And if you can't think of enough places to charge things the company will furnish you—on presentation of your credit card—with a directory which lists some 28,000 fine establishments and service facilities scattered thru North and Central America, Mexico, and other points east and west where you can do business. There is another directory if you go abroad.

The letter accompanying the application for this credit card does not say what is done to those who fail to meet the obligations they may have piled up. There were some pictures in the brochure received but they all dealt with happy, smiling people. There were no drawings of vats of boiling oil, or glowing braziers containing white hot steel rods; nor was there any illustration of the custom of staking-out, which was followed by some of the Plains Indians when confronted with a stubborn man. Staking out was a simple matter and could be done with little expense or equipment, four pegs, as many strands of rawhide and some wood was all that was needed. The subject was stretched out on the ground, on his back, his arms and legs pegged down, and then a little fire was kindled on his stomach.

In the event of an inflation with a runaway currency such as hit Germany after World War I, credit cards would be a handy thing.

Instead of using a wheelbarrow or a gunny sack to carry one's money while on a shopping trip, one could use a credit card and then at the end of a month call a dray and send the whole caboodle in at once.

And here's a tip for you. When getting a credit card be sure to get one that will enable you to guy a postage stamp. Then if you should get stranded you can always write home for money to get you back.

If the folks at home should happen to be out of funds at the time the lack should be remedied easily—all they will have to do is get a credit card on which they can charge a loan at the bank.

DENTAL HEALTH

TOOTHPASTES and POWDERS
It's elbow grease that cleans teeth—not toothpaste.

The elbow grease must be applied to the toothbrush, still the best weapon in oral hygiene.

Despite lavish therapeutic claims made for various tooth pastes, and powders, there has been none recognized by the American Dental Association's Council on dental therapeutics.

"There is still no green miracle or white miracle or red miracle toothpaste that will magically prevent dental caries (tooth decay) or eradicate gingival (gum) disease," says ADA officials.

They warn that "advertising misrepresentation can lull the credulous into a false sense of security in the belief that use of a particular product will somehow confer immunity to dental ills."

The history of each "miracle" is much the same. Each has had its buildup only to fall into oblivion after a time.

The once heralded ammoniated dentifrices developed on the theory that their high urea content would help prevent dental decay, have failed to live up to their billing, according to dentists who have carried out controlled studies.

Similarly, promises for the widely touted chlorophyll dentifrices have not been fulfilled.

The most recent entries in the dentifrice sweepstakes—the so called anti enzyme toothpastes—do not qualify for the claim that they reduce dental caries, according to the International Association of Dental Research and the American Dental Association.

An editorial in The Journal of the American Dental Association has pointed out that the "increasingly exaggerated" claims for toothpastes and powders are producing growing concern among the dental profession.

"Many of these superclaims are on the same low level as those made for discredited cancer cures and arthritis remedies," the editorial says.

Like dentifrices, mouthwashes have little, if any, therapeutic effect, dentists say. While it is wise to rinse the mouth after brushing to flush out any remaining debris, the Americans are never without a fad. It may be baton twirling, aid to Europe, the yo-yo, integration, rock 'n roll the hula hoop or anything else that may strike the public's fancy. Right now it is a sort of double-barreled affair—trading stamps and credit cards.

The trading stamps appeal, of course, to our sense of make believe. We really know that actually no one gets anything for nothing but we like to think so. As a matter of fact many of us are convinced the government is dishing out money free and that all we have to do to benefit is think of a way to get our feet in the trough. This is bad. Thinking like that makes us gullible for the promises of politicians and the pitch of the "now I'll tell you what I'm gonna do" salesmen who offer fabulous returns if you permit them to put a new roof on your house, new walls or make other improvements.

The credit card, of course, does not promise anything free but in a way it does give one a certain freedom from money needs. One has to pay the bill eventually but at the moment there is no need for cash.

It seems that today one can get credit cards for most anything, including other credit cards, so by loading up a wallet with these magic pasteboards one can travel from one end of the country to the other without cash except for odds and ends like newspapers, magazines, toothpaste and such.

There are probably cards that take care of such items because there seems to be no shortage of them. Just last week a letter came to this department which offered a credit card that appears to cover the waterfront.

This one does not come in crackerjack, however, nor is it given away as a consolation prize to losers in radio contests. This company, which is quite sound financially and enjoys an excellent reputation in the business world, apparently figures that people set a higher value on something for which they have to pay something than to get it for free.

Anyway they charge six bucks for a card. If you want one for each member of your family you pay extra for them. But a person who furnishes each member of his family with one of these cards had best have plenty of powder because it would be easy to go bankrupt.

Not only could a family go bankrupt but there are some people I know that unless checked in time they could put the offering firm thru the wringer as well.

Really, with this card one could throw the others away. Just listen to this. With this card one can charge his complete bill at thousands of hotels, motels, resorts, cafes, night clubs, including tips—taxes and valet service—and also get gasoline, oils, tires auto accessories, auto repairs, auto rentals, auto parking.

Also theater tickets, womens wear, men's wear, candy, telegrams, flowers, cables, dictat-

Police Cooperating in State-Wide Red Alert During Holiday

By DELORES ANDERSON
New Lenox 3651

Police Chief George E. Kennedy said today he is working closely with state and county authorities in the statewide traffic condition Red alert which will go into effect at 6 p.m. today.

During the alert, which will continue thru midnight Sunday, virtually every police officer in the state is participating in an all-out law enforcement program aimed at reducing traffic accidents during the Memorial Day weekend.

Chief Kennedy said cars from his department will be on patrol constantly during the 54 hour holiday watching for traffic violators who endanger the lives and property of other drivers.

No warning tickets are being issued during the Red alert, Kennedy said. Instead, he has ordered his men to place violators promptly under arrest.

"Strict enforcement prevents accidents," Chief Kennedy said, "and I want to see New Lenox come thru this holiday without a single serious mishap."

Chief Kennedy gave this advice to holiday motorists: "It's easier to say 'take it easy' than it is to practice it. But we must curb the desire to rush and hurry. Whether at the wheel or on foot take time to move safely to avoid endangering yourself or others."

William Thomas Fouser Jr. will receive a Bachelor of Sciences in Mechanical Engineering Degree at the Bradley University Commencement to be held Sunday evening, May 31.

William is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Fouser Sr. of 128 Maple Lane.

Nineteen members and one guest attended the Home Bureau meeting Friday May 22 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Kestel at Green Garden. Mrs. Ben Martin, her co-hostess, assisted her in serving dessert - coffee to the group.

Mrs. Beatrice Farron gave the major lesson on "The Dining Area Fashioned for Living."

The next meeting will be the district meeting on June 19 at the YMCA in Joliet and the New Lenox unit will be hostesses.

At a recent meeting of the Women's Guild of Grace Episcopal church plans were made to hold the annual carnival this year on Saturday July 18. Mrs. Mary Morris will be general chairman of the affair and announcements will be made later as to the entertainment being planned for the event.

Mrs. Harvey Frick left by plane Monday afternoon for Minneapolis, Minn. where she was called due to the critical condition of her brother, Harmon Norton who has been seriously ill.

Mrs. Rosemary Romeo entertained the First Child Study club in her home Monday night. Husbands and guests were invited to hear the guest speaker, Jerry Frazer, from the Family Counseling Service in Joliet.

Members of the grade school band have been and will be quite busy for the next several weeks. They will play at the eighth grade graduation exercises May 31 and will march in the Memorial Day parade.

Milton Mojzis, band director was well pleased with the progress and accomplishments of the band during the school year. A summer band program will be in progress for the band, starting in the middle of June. A picnic is being planned for the band members and parents on June 7 at Legion park.

The musical, "Casey at Bat" put on by the music department, was very successful. "Casey" was a first attempt at this type of entertainment by the grade school music department. The program was well accepted by the audiences at both performances. Mojzis and Robert Fahrner, teacher at Haven school, are to be commended for the time and effort toward making "Casey" the success it was. They announced that they would like to make this type of program an annual affair.

The Goodwill truck will be here Tuesday June 9. Anyone having articles for the Goodwill, are asked to bring them to the Glenn Vally garage at 630 North Cooper road. If you wish the articles picked up at your home by truck, call Joliet 25189 by Thursday June 4, as the driver cannot stop without first having been called. Discarded clothing and household furnishings are needed.

Leslie Ekedahl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ekedahl, and Michael Merfeld, son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Merfeld, attended the fifth annual Sports Award banquet held at the YMCA, where they received an award for participating in the Volunteer Physical Education Leadership program for 1958 and 1959. They have been teaching swimming at the YMCA all winter.

Miss Ekedahl received a Certificate of Merit this week for volunteering time and talents to help the youth and education of the Joliet community.

Willard C. Rasmussen, supt. of the Lutheran Children's home at Joliet, was the guest speaker Tuesday afternoon, at the meeting of the Trinity Woman's league. His talk was on aims and goals of children. Plans were made during the business meeting for a trip to Chicago, where they will tour a potato chip company on June 9th. Lunch will be served there.

Hostesses were the Mmes. Leona Klausung, Anna Hoffman, Lena Lorenz, and Bertha Landahl. Mrs. Gertrude Jarchow led the group in prayer.

The playground program sponsored by the Recreation commission will be held this summer from June 22 to July 31. The Lion's Den will be the scene of the activities which will include handicraft and sports. The directors of the program are Ron Larson and Carol Werner.

The Motor club says that all too often speed and driver fatigue go hand-in-hand. As the driver grows weary, frequently he becomes increasingly impatient to reach his destination. He is tempted to increase his speed at the very time his alertness is dwindling. Don't make this mistake when you become tired behind the wheel. Stop and rest, but remember to pull completely off the highway when you do come to a stop.

Excess Wheat Acreage Must Go By June 10, ASC Chairman Warns

June 10 is the final date for Will county farmers to dispose of excess wheat acreages, warned William Z. Polley of the Will county ASC office.

This, explained Mr. Polley, will apply to cases where there are more than fifteen acres of wheat on a farm and such acreage is in excess of the allotment. In order to avoid penalty, such farmers may utilize the excess acreage by turning it under as green manure, cutting it for hay or silage, or clipping or pasturing it so as to prevent maturity. The deadline is June 10, 1959.

If the excess wheat is not utilized in the manner described above, a normal yield will be established for the farm to determine the number of bushels subject to penalty. The 1959 penalty rate has been established in the amount of $1.07 per bushel.

Farmers who have any question regarding the required action to be taken are advised to immediately contact the county office. A report should also be filed as soon as disposition is accomplished.

Have your tires lost their grip? If they have, warns the Motor club, you are in danger of a serious accident. To be safe for highway travel, a tire should have at least a sixteenth of an inch of traction all the way around. In addition, the tire's sidewalls or casings should be undamaged. The few minutes you'll need for a tire check could be the most important few minutes of your life.

Student Debate Team Performs At Toastmasters

The New Lenox Toastmasters club met for the first time with its newly elected officers on May 11 at the New Lenox Methodist church hall.

Lloyd Lindstrom was toastmaster of the evening. Lew Loebe got the program off to a start with a fast, to the point topic session, in which each member was given a subject on which to speak for two minutes.

One of the main speaking assignments of the evening went to Les Brown whose subject "Incentive and Motivation" explained how those two factors can be put to use daily for anyone, in almost any circumstance.

The other main speaker was John Eden who told of "The Inevitable," which expanded on a continuing discussion of the water and sanitation problems in New Lenox.

The highlight of the evening was a demonstration of a formal debate, by the Lincoln-Way Community High school debate team. The students debated the subject "Resolved, that the United States should adopt the principles of the British system of education." Speaking in the affirmative house, starting at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Mrs. Frank Jeffords, Poppy chairman for the VFW, wishes to thank the community on behalf of both the VFW and American Legion for the wonderful response in making Poppy Day a success.

WANT ADS PAY

Honor Dead on Decoration Day

JOHN W. ALLEN
Southern Illinois University

When Memorial Day, once called Decoration Day, comes around each year many go to visit family burying grounds and to pay their respects to the dead. For one day at least, millions become cemetery cons. In most states this special day is observed on May 30. In some of the more southern states the date is earlier, being decided partly by the time when flowers are regularly in bloom.

The present day organized observance is the continuance of a custom that began a century ago. For ages, however, man has laid his dead away with a certain amount of ceremony and ritual. Among almost all races and at all times the dead have been buried in marked graves which the living return to visit. Cemeteries thus have become memorials and the grounds they occupy have become hallowed—so much so that the desecration of graves is almost universally condemned. Over the English speaking world burial plots often are referred to as "God's Acre."

Apparently it is only in America that a specific date is set by law or proclamation as one on which people are asked to pause and pay tribute to the dead. There are records of three organized community observances as early as 1866. One of these was in Pennsylvania, a second was in Georgia, and the third was in Carbondale, Ill.

Here, according to records, 202 Civil War veterans marched in formation from the Methodist Church to Woodlawn cemetery where General John A. Logan, then a resident of Carbondale, was the speaker of the day.

Two years later Logan had become commander of the Grand Army of the Republic and issued his famous General Order No. 11, setting aside May 30 as the date to be marked by the many posts of that organization. In his directive, Logan asked that the living veterans make pilgrimages to the graves of their departed comrades, place flowers upon them, and otherwise pay tribute to their memory. The order also asked that the practice be continued so long as any survived.

The Civil War veterans have gone, but everyone still seems to agree that it is good to pause and pay tribute to the dead to be thankful for the blessings that the labors of these who have gone before have left to the living.

After all, cemeteries, called graveyards in former years, are more than burying grounds. They literally are storehouses of history. They do not tell so much about the institutions, ideas, wars and governments as they do of the simple lives of men and women. Often this is information not recorded elsewhere unless it was in a family Bible. Time, neglect, accident and sometimes indifference have caused the loss of many of these family Bibles. The same causes, plus occasional wilful destruction, have likewise led to the disappearance of many older grave markers.

It was not until 1870 that there were laws in Illinois requiring that births and deaths be recorded. It was some decades afterwards that the practice of doing so became general. Thus, the records of many pioneers, who helped to hew homes out of the wilderness and to establish the state, are left only on the crumbling stones of neglected, overgrown plots whose only care seems to be the annual "burning over" given some of them.

Sometimes the stones which mark the final resting places of earlier settlers have been removed and used in the foundations of buildings, or as doorsteps, or even to fill gullies. In other cases the old burial plots have been converted into cow pastures or hog-lots where the stones are left for the pigs to root about. In some cases the stones have been removed so that the ground could be used to grow another bushel or two of surplus grain.

It would portend no good for a people to destroy their memorials or to cease to build others. Benjamin Franklin said, "Show me first the grave yards of a country and I will tell you the character of its people." It is somewhat cheering to observe that our grave yards are steadily receiving better care.

Cook County Offices Will Close Friday

As Memorial Day, May 30, and Independence Day, July 4, each fall on Saturday this year, many employers in this area plan to close in observance of these holidays on the day before each of these holidays. This method of observance will be practiced by many commercial, mercantile, and insurance companies as well as governmental agencies in the community.

As it appears that the general public will not transact too much public business on the day preceding these holidays, inasmuch as they both occur on a Saturday, this year, all offices and departments of the County of Cook will be closed as far as practicable on Friday, May 29, and on Friday, July 3, and all officials and department heads have been so informed by a resolution made by the Board of Commissioners of Cook County.

The Chicago Motor club reminds drivers that at this time of the year slow-moving farm equipment frequently is on the highway. This is one more reason for reducing your driving speed on hills and on curves. The safe driver always anticipates what may be up ahead and reduces his speed accordingly.

Tony Bettenhausen will be driving the Hoover Motor Special in the Indy 500 on Saturday. This will be the twelfth effort for the veteran race driver from Tinley Park. Tony claims that he will not retire if he wins the 500 this year--in answer to the perpetual question of when he shall retire. "I'll retire when my reflexes begin to lag," is the vet's only comment.

Qualifies

Bettenhausen qualifies on a cold windy Saturday at 142.7 m.p.h. This was the fastest time for the qualifying day. Tony's car wins $1,000 for this first place.

Bettenhausen's job will not be an easy one. Jim Rathmann, who finished second last year, wants to win. Johnny Thomson has served notice by his new lap record; Jimmy Bryan is a fine driver; Roger Ward, current point leader in the National Championship race; will all be up front.

Tony feels that his new car will do the job that he needs. He is certain—if the car hold up—that he can pull it in to victory lane.

Thomson will drive car number 3. Ward will be in car 5. Bryan is driving number 6. Rathmann is in number 16. These are cars to watch.

Just seven years ago, on the first day of time trials at the Indy Speedway Tony had exactly the same type of accident that occurred two weeks ago at Indianapolis.

Driving the famous Belanger Special, number 99, the wind caught him on the south turn and dashed the car off the wall. Tony walked out.

Recent crash was Tony's 29th. He then switched to the Slick Airlines Special. It was the same car that he had driven in the '50 and '51 races at the 500.

The engine stalled during the pit stop about the 175-mile mark and could not be started.

June 3, 1952, Tony made a deal with the Chrysler Motor Company to race in the 500, exclusively. The remainder of the time was to be spent selling Chryslers and Plymouths. He opened an agency in his home town—Tinley Park.

Tony qualified with the 9th fastest time for the 1953 500 in the Agajanian Special, the car that Troy Ruttman had won the '52 race with.

He ran second to Bill Vukovich through the early part of the race.

The weather was extremely hot. The temperature was about 132 degrees off the bricks on the front straight-a-way.

The car developed a handling problem. By the time of the second pit stop, Tony was completely exhausted. Bill Stephenson drove it about 40 laps and he came in exhausted. Gene Hartly then jumped in, drove it a few laps when the front axle broke and he hit the north-west wall. However, he escaped uninjured.

Back to racing

1953 was a poor year in the auto industry and so Tony went back to auto racing.

On Labor Day he showed up at Duquoin, Illinois in the Belanger Special. He spun right into the lead and held it for 83 miles, when the plug in the rear differential dropped out. The grease leaked out and the race was over for Tony.

The 99 was repaired and Bettenhausen hot-rodged it home with a clear victory in the 100-miler at Syracuse.

At the Hoosier 100 on September 18, Tony finished sixth. He was running fourth at the 92 mile mark when Ed Elisian forced him into the outer retaining wall and a tire blew. The tire was replaced and Tony finished sixth.

He went down to Phoenix and won the 100-miler.

For the second time he entered the Mexican Road race. He was driving a Kurtis Sports car with one of the first 300 Chrysler engines. On the first day's run a battery cable burned through and disabled the car.

Tony tries new car.

Tony tried the new Kurtis Kraft roadster type car, that is now being used at Indianapolis, for the first time in 1954. This car has the engine tilted over at a 35 degree angle.

He was forced out of this race with a bad oil leak at the midpoint.

Dogging his track was roadster of accident.

In a midget race at Soldier's Field—a 250 lap feature race—Tony had his famous accident. He started in 23 place, but that was just for the moment.

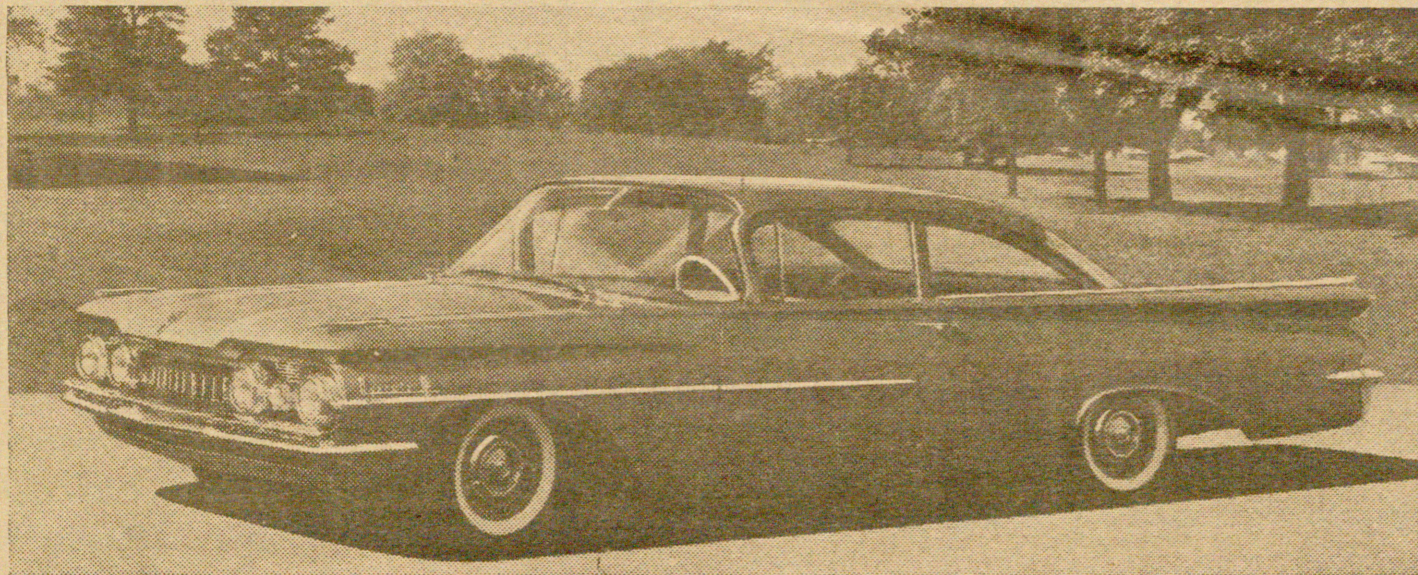

With a great display of skill he raced to the front. Tony is probably the best midget driver alive today. He was in the process of lapping the second place driver, Shorty Templeton on the 135th lap, when his brakes failed.

Throttle jams.

He ran over the rear wheel of Jimmie Knight's car and then the throttle jammed and he cracked the south wall at 90 mph, head-on. The car turned over along the wall and then skidded about 300 feet.

Bettenhausen awoke about five days later in the hospital. A serious concussion over the right eye was all that he had sustained. He was released from the hospital in 11 days and in six weeks he was back in a race car.

At Las Vegas, a couple months later, he was in a nine car pile-up and escaped injury. Nine lives--nothing--29 lives.

In 1955, Tony missed the Vukovich pile-up by a few feet and went on to finish second to Bob Swiekert. Tony drove the Chapman Special.

At the 407 mile point, running in fifth place, the air dissipated from his right rear tire and sent him spinning backward into the wall.

The remainder of that year was devoted to selling cars.

1956--Tony was driving the new number 99--Belanger Special. He and Jim Rathmann, dualed for some time. But Tony had tire trouble.

500-Another Rugged Test

The old days in the midgets. This was before Indy fame.

He received a broken collar bone and lost "three breaths of air" enroute to the crash.

Later that year he won the Syracuse 100 in the Peter Schmidt Special, No. 44.

1957--Drove the V-8 super-charged Novi Special. Tony finished 15th, due to shoddy pit work. "The Novi has far too many moving part," explained the blond driver.

Then to Monza, Italy. During the time trials at Monza Tony set a new world record that still stands. The speed was a rapid 177,038 mph--pictures showed the car to be air-bourne.

However, he was forced out of the actual race while leading on the fourth lap. Mechanical difficulties developed and could not be remedied.

1958--Tony missed the first lap crack-up by a few feet. On the 20th lap, when the green flag went out for all cars to begin running at top speed, Tony took the lead from Eddie Sacks and Jimmie Bryan. This was the first lap that he had led in Indianapolis history. Through the first 65 laps--Tony led 26.

He lost excessive time in the pits, due to a faulty refueling system and dropped back to 5th. On 192 lap he passed Jim Rathmann and stayed in fourth to finish there for the race.

Back in April of last year, Tony placed fifth in the Trenton, New Jersey 100 with a cracked cylinder block in the Hardwood Door Special, owned by an Orland Park resident.

In June Tony finished second in Milwaukee in the Hardwood Door Special.

At Langhorn, Penna. he finished 5th in the same car.

The magneto failed in his Atlanta, Georgia attempt. He finished 12th in the Springfield, Ill. 100, after a bad oil leak took him out of the lead.

At the Milwaukee 200-mile race he was running third when the magneto failed again.

"I decided to change cars so that I could win the National Championship," Tony smiled.

He signed to drive the John Zink Special. At Duquoin he led the race until Jim Packard forced him into slied on 98th. mile and he finished second to John Thomson.

At Syracuse he finished in third place.

At Hoosier 100 he was struck on the elbow with a flying stone and had one arm paralyzed for the duration of the race. He drove to fifth place with one hand.

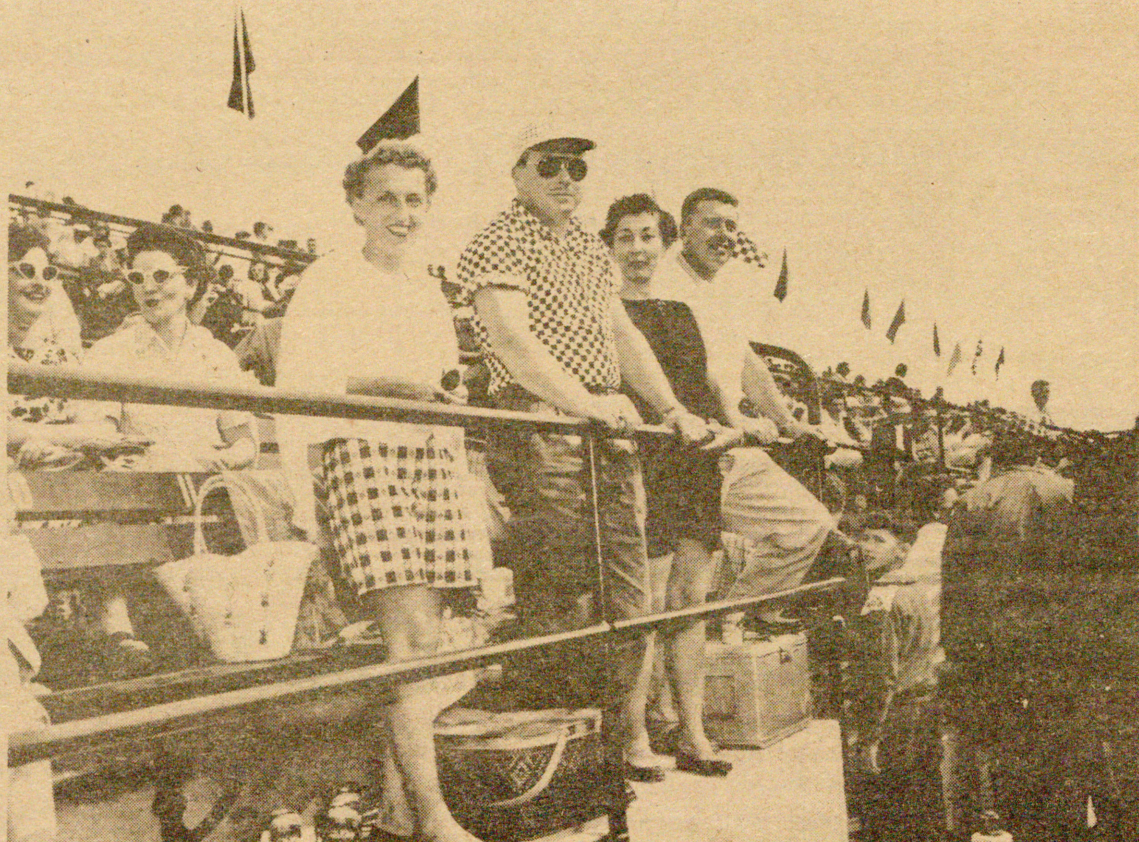

At Trenton, in Sept. he finished third.

With an 102 temperature he finished fifth at Sacramento on October 1st.

In the last race of the season Tony took the National Championship at Phoenix by beating John Thomson and George Amick. Both were tied with Tony at the time.

Tony finished second to Jud Larsen in the race. He led for 36 miles bu Jud Larsen finally beat him out.

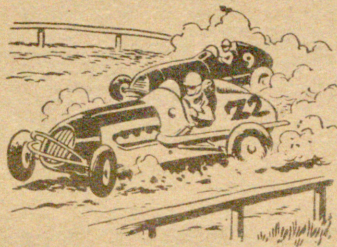

1959--could be the year of charm. Tony was winner at Trenton. Maybe his days as the bridesmaid are over. Time will tell what "dame fortune" has in store for Tony.

Oak Lawn Noses Out Bremen And Carl Sandburg For SWS Title

Reed Williams Steal Show Sets Two New SWS Records

Oak Lawn Spartans added another crown to its school collection, the track and field meet at Evergreen Park last Wednesday.

However, Reed Williams, distance runner from Carl Sandburg, stole the show. Williams set new conference records for the half mile and mile races in the varsity meet.

Reed was great in both efforts. Both times he had to win with spectacular finishes. The second place finisher in the half mile also broke the old record.

Six new records were set at the meet and probably many more would have fallen if the meet had not finished in a rainstorm. Rain, heavy winds held the time under the record in many events.

The dual between Bremen and Oak Lawn developed, but a third bird flew into the contest; Sandburg Eagle. Bremen and Sandburg just missed with a total of 40 points. Oak Lawn had 44.

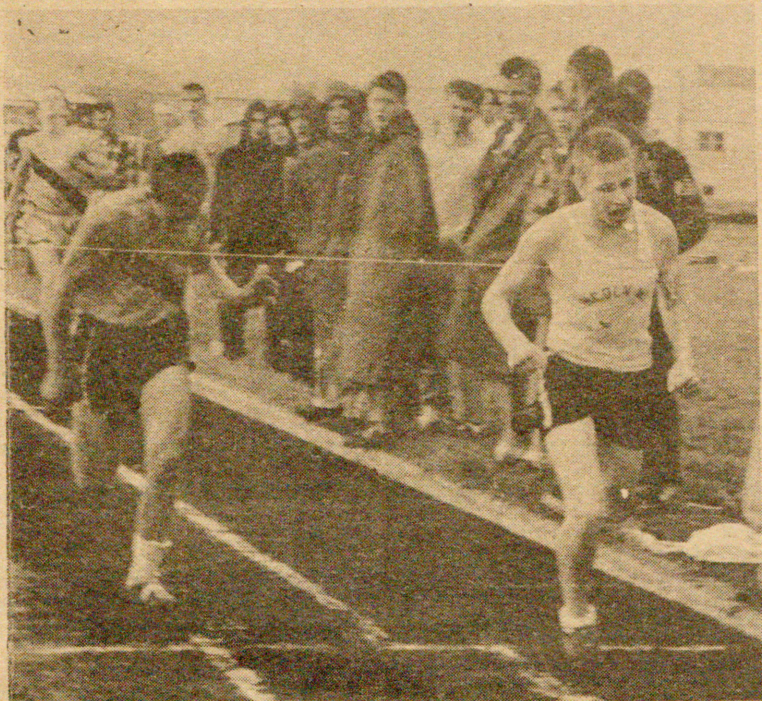

Bill Adams of Sandburg was surprised by the rise of his varsity. "If I could have foreseen this--I think that we would have won both the frosh-soph and the varsity," claimed the Eagle mentor. "Ron Lawson, a frosh soph could have won the high jump and there was enough for the win there. We could easily have sacrificed his 10 points in the frosh-soph meet. But I didn't know what I know now."

Evergreen Park finished in third place with 33 1/2. Rich was fourth with 40 points. Reavis was next to the basement with 19 and Lincoln-Way was last with a total of 3 1/2.

Rich Nelson of Bremen set a new record in the pole vault at 11 feet. Rich had to work overtime to accomplish this new mark.

Williams, they seemed to hold the records on this day, of Evergreen set a new high for the 440-yard dash with a 53.2 mark. The old record was 53.6.

Evergreen Park set another record in the mile relay with a time of 3:406.

Barns of Lincoln-Way won the only first that his school was able to muster in the entire event by winning the frosh-soph half-mile. Kaneverski of Sandburg trails Barns led almost all the way. Kaneverski tried to catch him, but Barns was going to win.

Oak Lawn Noses Out Bremen

John Kooi of Evergreen, who performed very well in everything that he was in, grabbed a new mark for the discus with a 139' 10" toss. He bettered the old mark by about three feet.

With Hank DeVries taking the 180-yard high hurdles, Oak Lawn was tied for the lead at the outset.

DeVries ran them in 15.8 seconds. Bill Agnew of Carl Sandburg finished second. Al Jacklich of the Oakland team was fifth. Spartans, 5, Eagles, 5, Braves 0.

Paulson of Rich took the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.8 seconds. Trench of Evergreen was second, Milstead of Oak Lawn was third. Bremen gained two points as Phil Tunstall finished fourth, Oak Lawn 8, Sandburg 5, Bremen 2. That is the way that the team totals changed throughout the rainy afternoon.

Reed Williams of Sandburg set the new conference record in the half mile. Randals of Oak Lawn finished second, after leading most of the race. Williams' great "kick" at the end was far too much for the fading Spartans.

Bremen takes half-mile.

Bremen's good half-mile relay team just missed the conference record as they swept to victory with little or no effort. Dave Palmer, Jim Casey, John Albert and Joe Popp were the speedy foursome that completely outdistanced any rivals. The Eagles were second, two seconds behind.

Mr. Williams of Mustang lineage raced home for the new record in the 440. "Corky" Hughes of Rich was second. Barrett of Sandburg was third. John Ragsdale of Bremen was fifth. Jim Mifflin, of Bremen, who led most of the way, stumbled near the finish line and thus didn't make the charmed circle. This was a blow to Bremen's chance of winning. If Mifflin had beaten Williams, as he was doing, the Braves would have carted home the trophy.

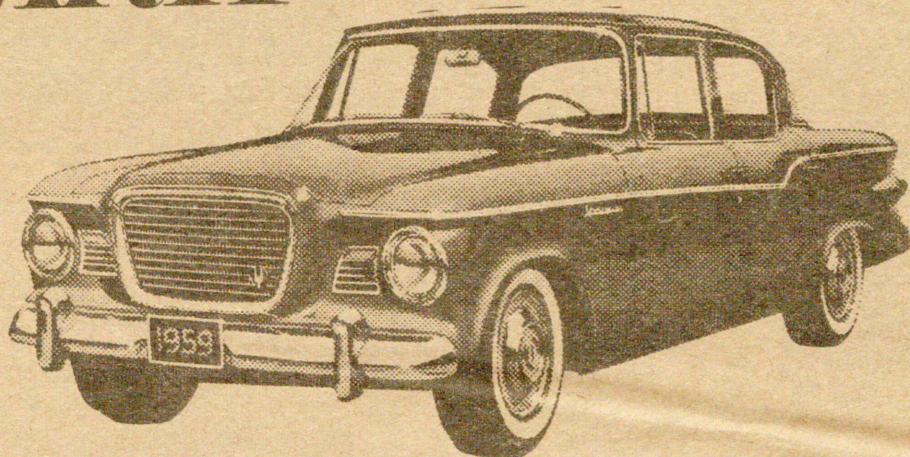

DeVries of Oak Lawn had a real test in the low hurdles, but had enough to beat Popp of Bremen. Hank was the only other man to win two events in the meet. Agnew of Sandburg was third and Jacklich of the Eagles was fifth.

TATTUM GOES TO PURDUE

"Bremen Express" Get Full Scholarship To Big Ten School

Dennis Tattum, best fullback ever in the SW Suburban football history, has decided to matriculate at Purdue University next fall.

The "Bremen Express" will receive a full scholarship to the Big Ten school.

The shy appearing, well built, senior made the Braves offense a constant and definite reality. Bremen is a ground team and Tattum was the tailor-made suit of clothes for Larry Callan's "madly clad" warriors.

Dennis, a resident of Tinley Park, particularly impressed in a losing cause with Rich. The Rockets beat the Braves by two touchdowns. But--certainly, there was not one individual that showed the ability and drive of Tattum.

Tattum not only carried the ball over 100 yards, but he continually finished the charge that broke through the Rich line and let a fellow back escape for yardage.

His value cannot be measured in terms of yards or points scored. Tattum proved more than adequate on defense. In fact, Dennis "might have been" the stand out guard on most any squad. However, Callan used him as the deep man and Tattum responded here with outstanding work--proof of this young man's versatility. He intercepted five passes and was extremely tough "to get by" for the touchdown.

This is the "not written side" of Dennis Tattum.

"No slouch!" Friend, he made them forget that man George Stelmach. Ah! yes, Stelmach held all the records at Bremen, Oncl

Now, Tattum holds all the records.

Dennis compiled a total of 805 yards in the 133 efforts for a gaudy 6.5 yards per carry. This was done in seven games; Bremen won 5 and lost 2. The Braves received a dividend of 115 yards per game from the Tattum investment. THAT'S great interest in football.

Tattum roared back with 10 kick-offs for a total of 332 yards. Wow! That is better than 30 yards per effort. This is a fullback and not a scat-back.

Tattum's trade mark is inside tackle with both legs driving. He's not the flashy, hipster that usually draws the rave notice on the sports sheets of our country. He is a wild charging fullback with great speed.

With today's college rules Tattum is an excellent prospect. Dennis can go both ways and it would be difficult to eliminate him from the defense.

He is not the momentary "super star." He was "just there" for Bremen. He was "there" all the time.

The Tattum family has become a football family. They were converted by that hard charging Dennis.

A writer met Mrs. Ossie Tattum, Dennis' mother after the Rich loss, and found her proud of the beaten Bremen team. They enjoyed the sport and were not foolishly fanatic about winning.

Tattum had considered going to a few other colleges, but decided that Purdue was the place for him.

It would seem that his choice is a good one. Check the Purdue records and you will note that a good fullback will always mark the page in bold strokes.

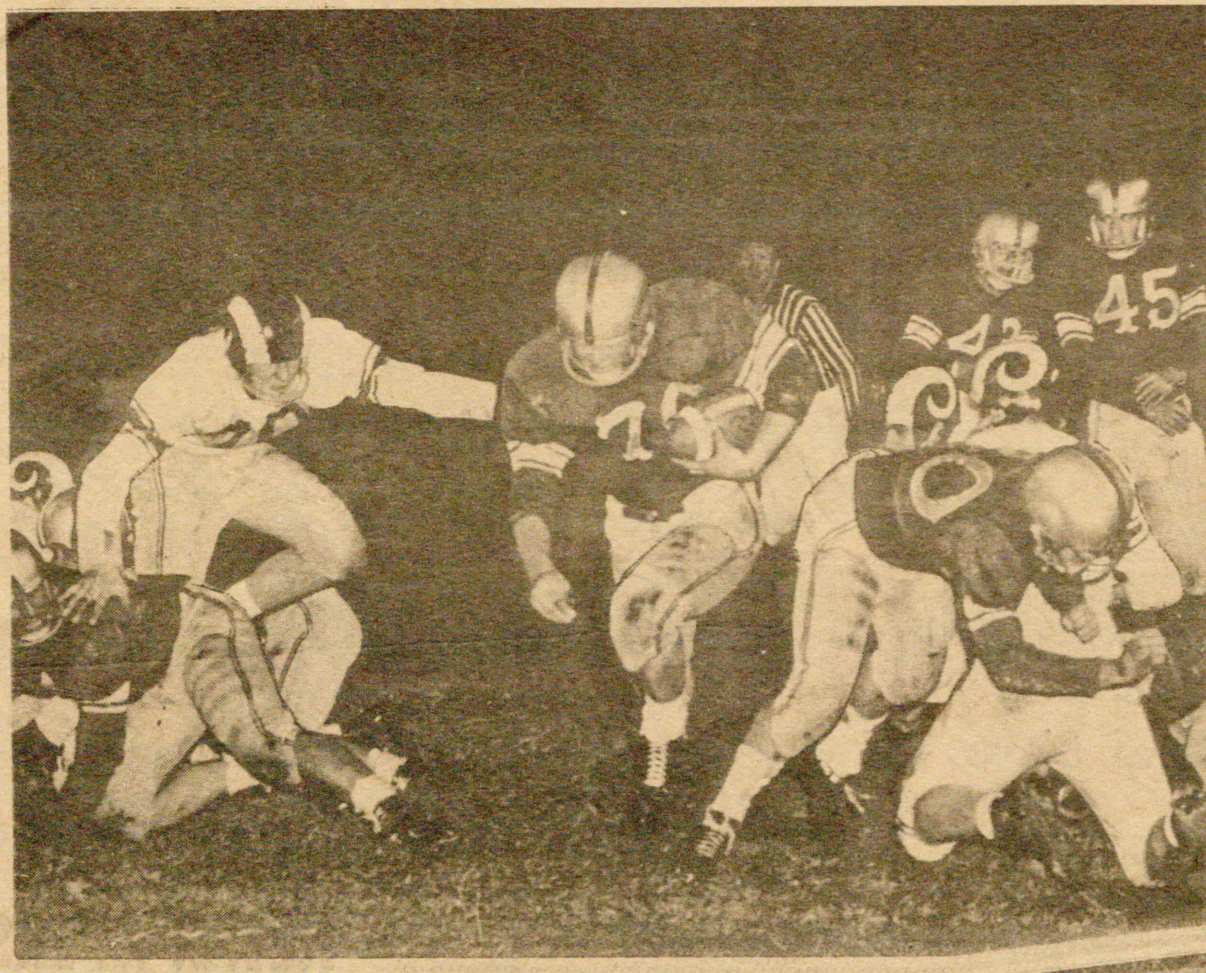

Fullbacks are a big bit in the Purdue offense and have been with the current coaching staff. So--it appears that Dennis will enroll in a situation that should give him every possible opportunity to demonstrate his powerful wares.

Tattum is not the cocky "story-book" high school "kid." Actually, he is rather unassuming. He is a regular high school student: Happy with his accomplishment, but not at all certain that he is the next great Big Ten fullback.

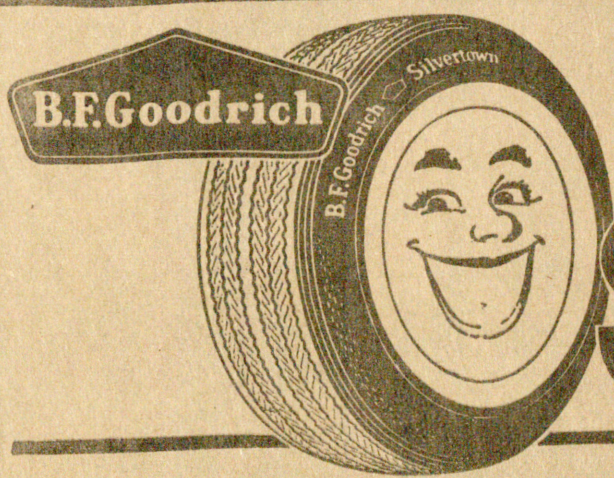

Just last week he placed fourth in the SWS Conference field meet, shotput contest. He is sturdy and Purdue will put those muscles to effective service at LaFayette, Indiana.

Oak Lawn Noses Bremen

With his great "kick" Reed Williams turned it on down the home stretch and beat Trogue of Oak Lawn while setting a new record for the mile with a mark of 4.46. Gramese of Lincoln-Way was fourth in the contest.

Palmer of Bremen was the winner in the 220-yard dash with a 22.4 mark. Paulson of Rich gave a good battle. Trench of EP was third. Schnieder and Pierce finished fourth and fifth respectively.

The Mustangs ran away with the mile relay at a 3:40 mark for a record breaking effort. Rich came in second with a 3:41.5.

Kooi of Evergreen flipped the discus a total of 130' 10" the conference record. Batka of Reavis was second with Jim Randolph of Bremen third.

Trench of Evergreen Park leaps out 19'4" to win the conference broad jump. He had two inches to spare.

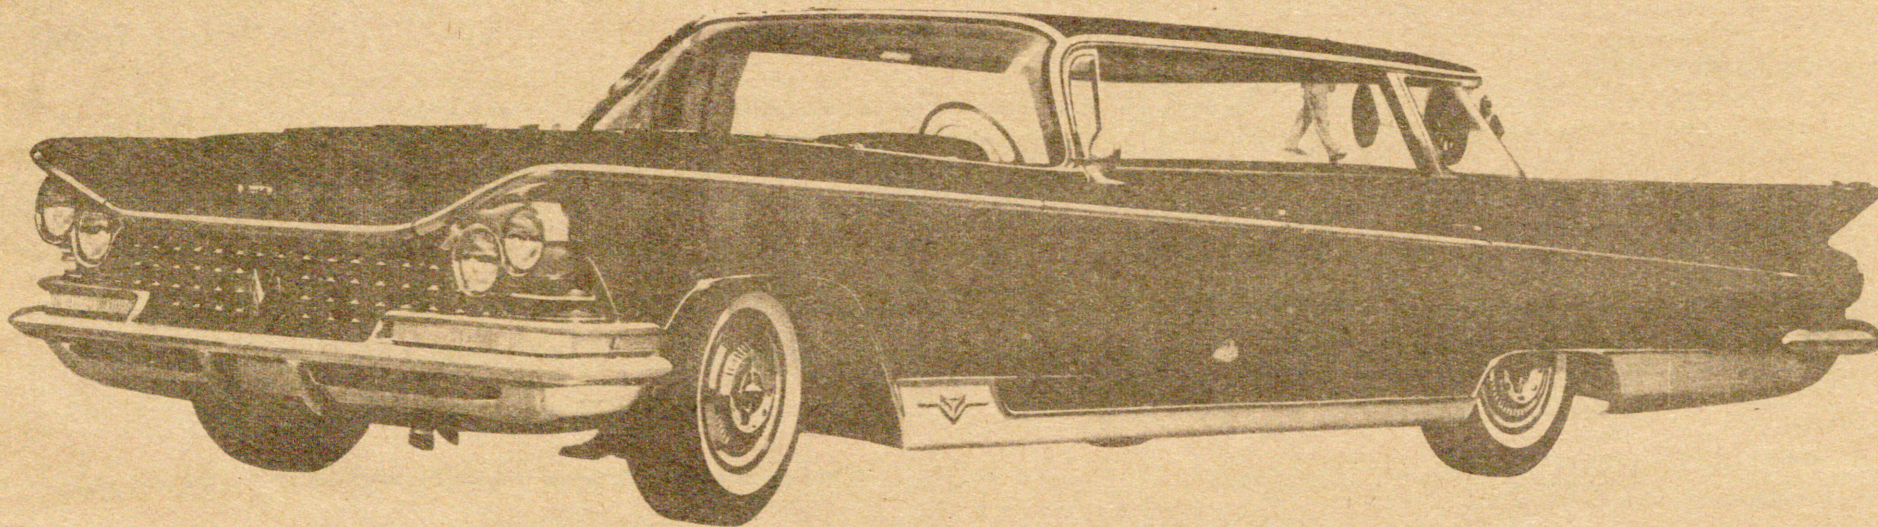

Reed Williams, CS track standout, set the first of two records as he crossed finish line in the half-mile.

Camera catches Ron Lawson just as he breaks the tape in the frosh-soph high hurdles. James of Bremen charges on close behind. Lawson also won the frosh-soph high jump. He placed third in the low hurdles and helped to win the half-mile relay. Quite a day—14½ points of the 69½ Sandburg totaled in the frosh-soph victory. He did all of this with sore heels.

Nelson won the pole vault for Bremen with his new record. Three were tied for second place in this event. Jennings and Smith of Sandburg were among the three tied for second.

Trench of Evergreen won the broad jump with a leap of 19' 4". Keneipp of Oak Lawn finished second. Ragsdale of Bremen was third. Agnew placed fifth for Sandburg.

Bob Stoutenour put the shot 48'-8 1/2" for a first place for Sandburg. Batka of Reavis was second here, also. Bill Hoffman of the Braves was third. Dennis Tattum was fourth. Tattum is from Bremen.

The high jump was a group of ties. Three for first place and two for fourth place. Tunstall of Bremen, Karvasek of Oak Lawn and Silius of Reavis were tied at 5' 4" for first place. Gray of Lincoln-Way and Vogt of Rich were tied for

Sandburg Wins Frosh-Soph, With Ease, Bormet Sets Record

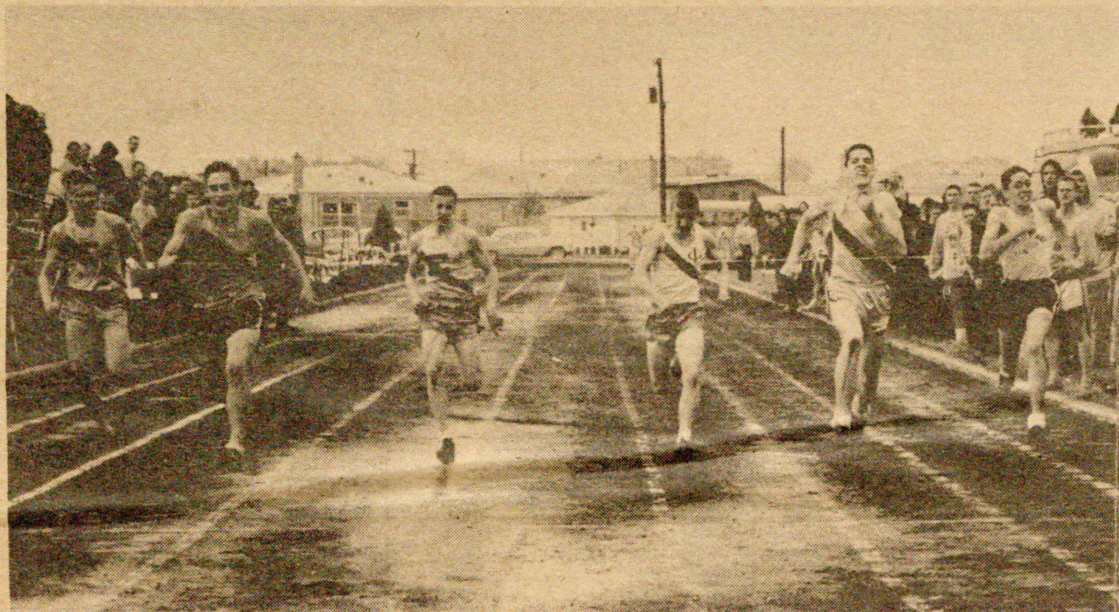

Dave Bormet sets a new frosh-soph SWS conference record with this heave of 42' 11 3/4". (Marvin Smith photo)

Carl Sandburg's frosh-soph track and field team found the going easy at Evergreen Park last Wednesday and rolled over the SW Suburban foes with a 69 1/2 point total. Rich of Park Forest finished in second with some 28 points behind.

Oak Lawn was in third place with 32 1/2. Bremen finished up fourth with 29 1/2. Reavis was fifth with 18 1/2. Lincoln-Way had 11 points for sixth. Evergreen Park was last.

Only one record was better in the afternoon of individual contests. It was bettered by Dave Bormet of Sandburg in the shot-put event. Dave put the ball of iron a total of 42' 11 3/4". The old record was 42' 10".

The Eagles from Orland started out front and never got behind in the easy victory. Right from the start it was just a matter of how many total points the young birds would score--not who was going to win.

Rich athletic direction, Creig Sloan, had trouble deciding the winner—but finally decided that another Sloan from Rich had hit the tape first. All five of the runners in the 220-yard dash on the frosh-soph are extremely close. Dan Wasick and Sloan appear to be just a stride ahead of the others. Wasick of Sandburg finished second. This was the photo finish of the day. (Marvin Smith photo)

Ziler of Oak Lawn streaks to the finish line, hotly pursued by Graefen of Sandburg and Burton of Bremen. Burton finished in second place and Graefen in third. All this action was in the frosh-soph 100-yard dash. (Photo by Marvin Smith)

It was so lopsided that Eagle coach Bill Adams felt he could have given-up ten points, shuffled some of the boys on the frosh-soph and still won the meet.

Ron Lawson of CS won the high hurdles with a time of 17.6 seconds. Peterson of Reavis was second. James of Bremen was third. Paulson of Rich came fourth and Krol of Sandburg was fifth.

In the 100-yard dash Siler of Oak Lawn ran it in 11 seconds. Burton of Bremen was second. Graefen of Sandburg finished third.

Reinhard of Lincoln-Way was a fifth finisher.

George Barns of Lincoln-Way won the only event that his school was able to win in both sections of the SWS meet when he came home first in the half-mile. He did it in 2:11. That is good time.

Art Graefen put on a brilliant dash as the third man in the Sandburg half-mile relay team and sparked the Eagles to victory in that event with a time of 1:41. Charles Kallstrom, Ron Lawson and Dan Wasick were the other members of this team.

Hynk of Sandburg continued domination by the Eagles in winning the 440-yarder with a time of 57 seconds. French of Reavis was second.

Bremen's James put on a spectacular show in winning the low hurdles. He crossed the finish line as Paulson of Rich was breaking over the last hurdle. Lawson of CS was third.

Tony Kaneverski took another first for Sandburg with a 4:49 effort in the mile run. Holz of Reavis was second. Thomas and Patterson of Bremen were fourth and fifth, respectively.

Sloan beats Wasick.

Creig Sloan of Rich defeated Dan Wasick of Sandburg by an eyelash in the 220-dash. Sloan's time was 25 seconds. Reinhart of Lincoln-Way was third.

Crispe of Oak Lawn was top in the discus throw with a distance of 122'. Obrenski of CS was second. Hughes of Rich was third. Montgomery of Bremen was fourth.

Bormet of the Eagles set the new record in the shot with better than 42'. Second was his teammate Conrady. Crispe placed third. He is from Oak Lawn.

Lawson of Sandburg won the high jump and his second event. He was the only man to turn the trick in the frosh-soph meet. He jumped 5' 4"—same as varsity. James of Bremen and Systma of Evergreen were tied for second place. Summers of Lincoln-Way tied for fourth.

There was a six way tie for first place in the pole vault.

Wasick won the broad jump for Sandburg at 18' 8 1/2". Ziller of Oak Lawn was second. Burton was third for Bremen. Graefen of CS and Rotcliff of Rich were tied for fourth place.

Hickory Creek Ranch At Frankfort

Physical education instructors from some of the local high schools, under the direction of Joe Devine, Carl Sandburg football and wrestling coach, have set-up a summer day camp at Frankfort.

They are offering a varied program for four weeks of the summer.

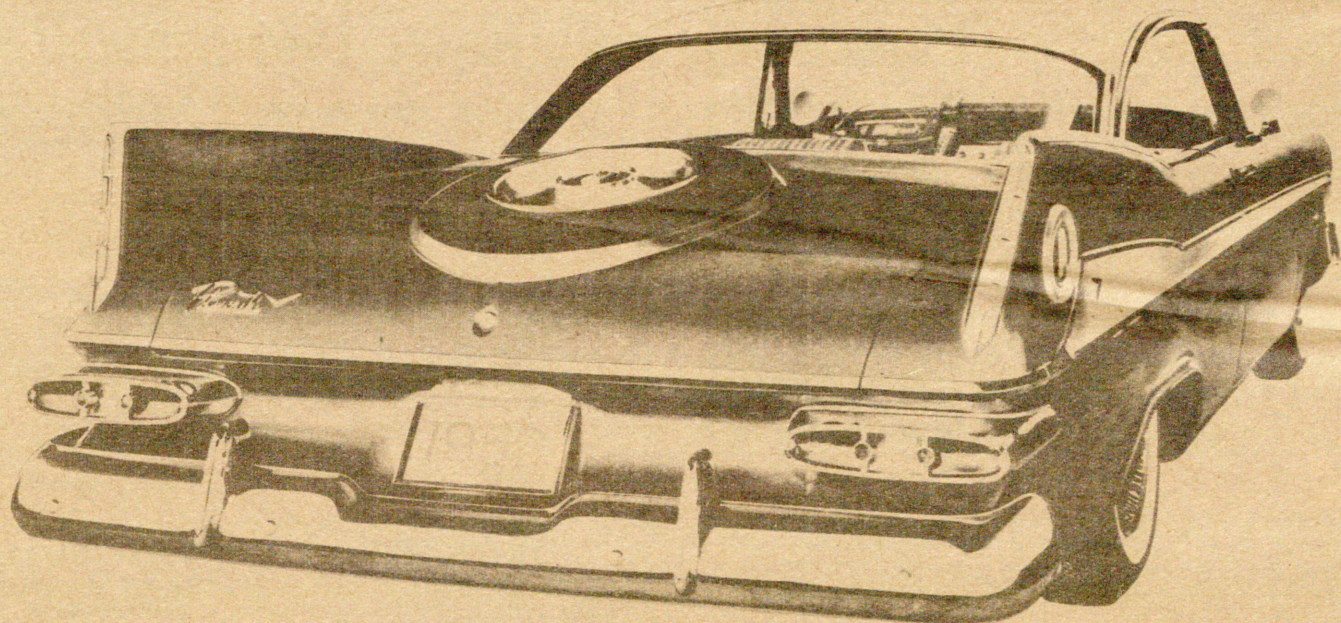

Devine has directed the Madison, Wisconsin Park District for the past four years. All that this program involved was a similar recreation venture.

The sessions will run from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. The instructors will pick-up the youth each day and then return them home.

The Hickory Creek area, off U. S. route 45, is a ten acre picnic ground.

Dean Dallas, Sports Editor Semmler Press

The SW Suburban track and field meet would have been a day of new record--that is--if it had not rained and then stormed.

In all, about eight records were broken.

Reed Williams of Carl Sandburg brought back two new SWS records to the bluff. Williams looked extremely strong at the finish of the half mile and the mile runs. Actually, Reed appeared stronger at the finish of the mile.

Both of Williams' wins were "spine tingling." He came from behind on both attempts. He did not hold the lead at any time in either race; that is, until the finish.

His accomplishments are not on the athletic track alone. Reed has loose Hoover with about everything that it has. If it responds as he thinks it should--maybe the loss will not be too great.

A driver must first have confidence--explicit--in the race car if he even has a chance to win. Can that be developed in the Hoover Special over the week-end? That remains to be seen.

Certainly, assurance by Lou Meyer, Tony's head mechanic, that the Hoover can run with the Ansted will go along way toward giving Tony a real psychological lift.

Don't count the stubborn, cocky, "blond charger" out of this race. He stubbornly wants to win and can be counted on for a great performance. He can win!

---O---

The gravevine has suggested that Bill Burkhardt, present coach of basketball at Rich, will make a change from Rich to the new SW Suburban member--Homewood-Flossmor. Burkhardt would be the athletic director and head basketball coach for the SWS entry. Who knows!

---O---

I think that all of the Yankee haters are extremely poor winners. They have always demonstrated that they are lousy losers. However, this does not make the Yanks champs right now.

---O---

One ant said to the other as they tried to elude the "excellent" golfer, "we had better get off the hill and onto the ball,"--so my critics. This was a story...Well...Cheerio!

Mud-splatter Reed Williams, Carl Sandburg distance runner, roars home to set a new record in the half-mile race. Reed was one of two men to win two events at the SWS Conference meet, but was the only man to set two new records. He set records in the mile and half-mile.

better than a B+ average at Carl Sandburg and plans to attend college. He is also the recipient of an honorary state scholarship. School officials reported that he ranks in the upper 10 per cent of his class.

These track records are particularly outstanding in the rainy situation. Williams ran the mile in the rain--my shrunken wool sport coat will attest the fact. Note the picture in the special section--Williams is mud-splattered.

In spite of the driving rain and the muddy track he brought honor to himself and his school. Enough for one days running.

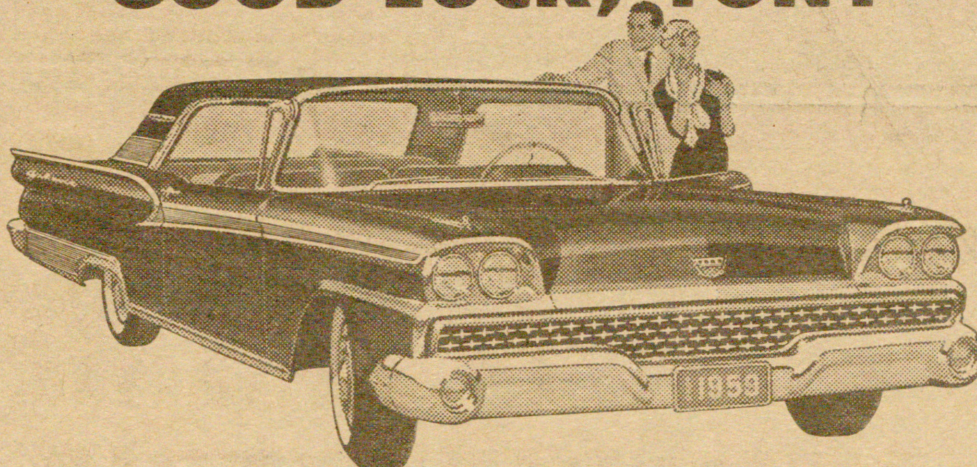

---O---

With the loss of the Ansted, Tony Bettenhausen's chances to win the 500 were given a real jolt. Tony had extreme confidence in the sleek roadster. Much of his confidence went with the loss of this car.

However, the Hoover Special is not a junk heap. It is a new car.

Much can be gleaned from his qualifying time. Tony will turn
